In a letter from the Acting Civil Lord of Admiralty to the Chief Secretary to Govt., dated 19th January 1861, the Act is given of an application for a ship

"Annexed Pension."

Certified that I have examined Mr G. M. Bass District Mooniff of Korumbranad and find him to be in a state of some debility both of body and mind. His sight is imperfect especially that of the left eye. A short time ago he had what he describes as an attack of hemiplegia of the right side, which has left the affected limbs in an enfeebled condition.

I consider him unfit for any further service.

Sir,

I have the honor to forward the sion of Rs. 500 per month being one half of his

2. Mr. Bep himself is, I believe a man of good character, but I can testify that for the last 6 years great detriment to the public service and opportunities of subordinate corruption have arisen from the senile debility which the Civil Surgeon describes.
