It will thus be seen that A. Ragava Charry has been actually employed in the public service for a period of 36 years, five months and fourteen days up to the date of the abolition of the late Principal Sudder Ameens Court and I believe that his character and conduct throughout his public career have generally been good.

A descriptive Roll of the Applicant is herewith sent. The Applicant having served Government upwards of 36 years and the Principal Sudder Ameens Court having been abolished, the transmission of the necessary certificate from the Medical Officer regarding his bodily health is considered unnecessary under the Circular instructions from Government dated 21st July 1854, I therefore beg to recommend that a pension of Rs as p 22-8-0 per month being one half of his monthly salary of Nazir may be granted to him from the 1st July 1862 the date on which the Principal Sudder Ameen's Court was abolished. This sum is very slightly in excess of what he would be entitled to under the rules,+ but I venture to hope that consideration may be had for the fact of his situation having been suddenly abolished; he would have been able to have held it for some little time longer, but has now no alternative but to take a pension as it is useless for him to expect that any head of a department will consent to take so old man again into active employment.
