The humble application of J. Vardarajooloo
Naidoo Head Draftsman in the Presidency Executive Engr's Office
Madras

Humbly Sheweth,

With great respect and due submission your Petitioner begs leave to bring to your Kind consideration, that he was at first entertained in the Chief Engineer's Office in the time of Colonel Garrard on the 2nd January 1828 as a Draftsman on a salary of Rupees seven, On the 1st February 1833 the above mentioned amount of his salary was increased to Rupees Nine and on the 1st September 1837 it was increased to Rs Eleven and his name was then entered in the Pay Abstract as "Anandavaradan" but in the Month of March 1840. of your Petitioner was transferred to the Superintending Engineer's Office on an increased salary of Rupees 20 in which Department his salary was gradually increased from Rupees 20 to 38 and (here his name was entered in the "Pay Abstract" as Vurdarajoolo) from which amount it was increased to Rs 65 while he was attached to the Garrison Engineer's Office as Head Draftsman and finally his salary was increased to Rupees 99 which amount he was drawing up to the 31st June 1863.

The length of your Petitioner's service extends extends over a period of 36 years, but the best part of which was principally devoted to surveying, taking sketches and designing but in consequence of the general reduction in the Department of Public works, your petitioner has been thrownout of his situation.

That your Petitioner therefore most respectfully and earnestly solicits that you will be pleased in consideration of his long and faithfull services to Government to strongly recommend him for the grant of a suitable amount of Pension to enable him and his dependants to maintain themselves in comfort.

Which act of Kindness your humble petitioner will always cherish with the most grateful remembrance and as in duty bound will ever pray.
