PROCEEDINGS of the MADRAS GOVERNMENT.

Read the following papers-

From the Superintending Engineer's Division (Here entered 15th April 1864 No. 48)
Reports of the Civil Paymaster (Here entered 3 October and 24 November 1864 Nos. 130 and 194)

Order thereon 5th January 1865 No. 3.

From the letter of the Superintending Engineer's Division, it is evident that Subbarayadiv was not a mistry in the sense understood by the Chief Assistant Civil Paymaster, who he excluded his Service as such from counting for pension, i.e. that he was not a head labourer but that he was a foreman put in charge of particular works - in no sense an "artificer"; - ~~but~~ ^{and} hence his Service has been improperly excluded from computation for pension.
