ORDER THEREON, 23rd June 1865, No. 228.

In their Order, dated 9th ultimo, in which the application for grant of a gratuity to the Peon referred to in the foregoing letter was refused, on the ground of the length of time which had elapsed between his discharge from the service and the submission of the application, the Government called upon the Commissary General for an explanation of the delay.

2. The Commissary General now informs Government that the Peon referred to was killed on the 1st November at Masulipatam, and that, he having no heirs, it is requested, that his application may be cancelled.

3. The Government observe that it is unnecessary to pursue the matter further; but they must remark that the fact of the Peon's death three years after his discharge, and of his having no heirs, cannot be considered a satisfactory explanation of the delay, and that the request that the application may be cancelled is superfluous, the application having been finally refused in the order above quoted.
