I am aware that the rule has been to allow, to servants of this description retiring from service, a gratuity of 6 months pay but I presume that this rule is applicable only to persons becoming disqualified within the ordinary period of service. The present applicant has however as you will observe, served for a greater length of time than provided in the rules to enable him to the usual gratuity; I have therefore the honor to request that you will be good enough to lay my application together with your recommendation before Government that a gratuity of a year's pay viz Rs. 168 may be granted to him. The usual register of application is herewith enclosed.

I have the honor to be

Remarks.

The names of men ^{holding} such posts are not generally shown in the books of establishment, but the existence of the posts has been verified, and whenever the incumbent's name is given of correspondents with the claimants. There can therefore be no reason why the collector's enquiries and report should not be accepted. He explains that the man is lying very ill, and urges that on the ground of his very long service separate Medical Certificate may be dispensed with, and the undersigned ventures therefore to pass on the case: the new rules of course are not in the least in point for they do not affect men not in pension grade. Gratitude of 6 months pay only (No 84) can be granted.
