have the honor to inform you that the break in the service of Swami Aijangar referred to at the expiration of four months leave which he obtained from the 16th January 1838, the date on which the break commenced and not the 10th July 1838 as stated

In retransmitting the List of Services of Sawney Syngan, returned with Memo No 99 dated 22nd June 1865 from your Office, I have the honor to state that the cause of the difference of four months between the period of Service as therein shown and as verified by the Controller is owing to a break which occurred between the 1st September and 31st December 1857 - inclusive, consequent on the appointments of Sub Officers having been Cancelled by the then District Engineer from the former date pending the absorption of the old Maranah Establishment which was employed under the Collector in the then Arco D.P.W.: the final arrangements did not take place until the 1st January 1858 when Sawney Syngan was re-entertained.

not of the nature of either of those specified in paras 10 and 14 of the Revised Pension Rules, it was not considered necessary to exhibit the same in the Return of Service.
