ORDER OF GOVERNMENT.

22 September 1867 B-263.

The Government orders that no satisfactory explanation is given as to the delay which occurred in the submission of application for gratuity on behalf of A. Perassam Chetty. The applicant appears there retained on the 30th July 1866, but an application was submitted on the 1st August 1867. If the applicant himself is the cause for the delay, he has no claim for gratuity for service in claim gratuity.

2. It is further observed that the medical certificate of the 17th July 1867, more than a year subsequent to the applicant's retirement. When satisfactory explanation is given, the omission to comply with the requirements of the Service rules will regard to submitting medical certificate, delaying the incapacity of the applicant at the time of retirement, will not be sufficient to prevent the grant of gratuity. Case 713.
