Registrar of the High Court
Appellate Side.

Respected Sir,

In submitting this application for your favorable consideration, I most respectfully beg to state that I am an old public servant on the Establishment of this Court. & Previous to my entering the Sads Court I was employed under several Gentlemen both officially and privately, namely John Sullivan Esq^r then Principal Collector of Cumbston, John Stokes Esq^r 3^d member of the Board of Revenue, Captain Aspinall Deputy Advocate General, and Lieut. Col. R. Bruntow of the 13th Light Dragoons. &c. In the year 1833 William Custodeston Esq^r, who was then 3^d Judge of the Sads Court, got me admitted into this office when J. C. Morris Esq^r was Registrar. I was then entertained as a Clerk in the Current Department. Having made myself useful, I was occasionally sent to the Judges' quarters on business in the year 1834. The names of the Judges are J. M. Lushington Esq^r J. A. Oakes Esq^r and A. D. Campbell Esq^r. When Mr. W. Douglas was appointed Register, Mr. Huddleston was pleased to recommend me to that Gentleman a day previous to his embarkation for England, as follows;

My Dear Douglas.

I shall be glad if any promotion can hereafter conveniently, be conferred upon the writer (B. Surshay).

(Signed) M. Huddleston
30th March 1840.

Mr. Douglas accordingly selected and appointed me to prepare the daily Sadr and Foujdary Diaries, a situation formerly held by a writer named Rangappa Chetti on a Salary of Rupees 52 1/2. After 2 years service Mr. Douglas was pleased to increase my pay from 7 to 9 Pagodas with the following remarks made by that Gentleman in a letter to Government dated 9th January 1836. -
"The balance of the pay was divided equally between B. Surshay and G. Barnwell two of the best writers on the Establishment, the former of whom has been in this Office since the year 1833, a most attentive servant and who, until this arrangement took place, was on the receipt of only 7 Pagodas per mensem, his pay is now 9 Pagodas the rate at which our best writers are paid. Subsequently I have had to conduct various duties such as preparing the Sadr and Foujdary Diaries. Keeping the Abstract book of letters received, & Memorandum book of monthly Criminal Reports,

Statement of Contingent Charges, Schedules of monies in the custody of the Lower Courts, & Session Calendars. Magistrates petty Calendars. Quarterly and Annual Civil Reports, Comparing fair Proceedings after they are received from the examiners with the Abstract Books, to enter the dead dates and checking the sent books and other miscellaneous duties.

I shall have then served the Government in this office with care, diligence, and fidelity; for a period of ^{about} 34 years should my retirement take effect from the ~~1st~~ ^{1st} March in conformity with my prayer and though my present salary is hardly sufficient to maintain myself and family comfortably, I am induced from sheer inability to serve any longer, on account of my impaired vision and declining state of health, to submit this my application for a Superannuation pension and most fervently pray you will take a compassionate view of my case and be pleased to recommend me for a suitable pension and also be pleased to confer on my Son the last place that will fall vacant in the arrangement which will follow my retirement from the service from the 1st February next. Which acts

acts of justice and charity shall ever gratefully be remembered by me. -

I beg leave to remain

2. Mr. Lushington's service has been continuous in this office
