Sir

I beg leave respectfully to state, that in 1837 I was entertained as a Clerk in the office of the High Court, then known as the Sudr & Hojdayy Adalat, and that during the last 31 years, I have, I trust, conducted my duties to the satisfaction of my superiors. But finding my constitution shattered, and my health failing, I do not feel myself equal to any further exertion at the Desk; I therefore beg to avail myself of the Pension to which I am entitled by reason of my long service, and to solicit you will be pleased to recommend my case favorably to Government. Further, in consideration of my having occasionally acted in the office for Rs 100 on one occasion during the absence of Mr. Peggie on other duties for a year, I beg leave to request that in supporting my claim for transfer on the Super-annuation list you will be pleased to recommend me for a higher rate of pension, than what I should

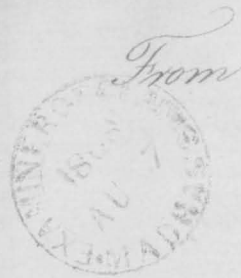

Should be entitled to, on my present salary, for a Pension calculated on the very small pay I just now draw; will be barely enough to find me with the means of support in my old age.

Begging you will give your support to my humble solicitation.

I beg to remain,
Sir,
Yours most obedient servant,
Signed/ Tho. Lewis.
