The Board having aſsembled proceed to examine Mr. Inspector Ruffert; they find that he is suffering severely from Leprosy and that there is a trembling about him, particularly about the hands, that may proceed from weakneſs or impaired nervous condition - it is also suspicious in reference to the alleged habits of the Inspector; on this point however the Committee have not sufficient information before them to enable them to pronounce positively - In reference to the first named complaint they have no hesitation in giving an opinion - The ends of several of the fingers are clubbed and everted the thumb of one of the hands is reduced to half the natural length from absorption of bone - Both feet have suffered considerably from the effects of the disease, and in one, the metatarsal bones have been nearly all absorbed - The Committee with these conditions before them have no alternative but to declare Mr J Rufferty incapable of performing any duty requiring continued exertion either in walking, running, or grasping; all which they suppose his position as an Inspector of Police would at times necessitate - In giving this Opinion the Committee put out of sight the question of Contagion - but in such an advanced state of the disease - they are by no means satisfied as to the safety of handling papers or other articles that have been recently handled by the Inspector -

and

Considering all the circumstances of this case and the impossibility of overlooking Mr Rufferty's condition, the Committee feel bound to record their surprise and regret that in the Certificate granted by Messrs Doig and Hargraves - they should have been wholly silent on all the points above mentioned

The Board grant the following Certificate

Sir,
I have the honor to forward the Proceedings of a Board of Medical Officers held at this Station on the 12th October 1867 for the examination of Police Inspector I. Rafferty.

2 On the 20th of last month I addressed the Dy Inspector General of Hospitals, forwarding the papers connected with the case and requesting that he would cause a Board of Medical Commissioned Officers of experience to be convened. Sir, as the Acting Civil Surgeons of Cocanada and Rajahmundry were already committed to an Opinion

You will see from the Board's Proceedings that the Inspector is suffering severely from Leprosy. and has actually lost some of his ~~feet~~ toes and fingers from the disease. Even to an unprofessional observer the advance state of the disease is apparent.

I enclose Messrs Doig and Hargraves certificates which were of course laid before the Board.

I would respectfully urge that the Inspector services may be taken into consideration and he be granted a compassionate gratuity.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Sir

By order of the Deputy Inspector General I have the honor to forward the proceedings of a medical board assembled at Waltair on Inspector Rafferty.

2 Agreeably to orders conveyed in your Circular Memo No. 595 dated 5th October 1867, the Inspector has been this day struck off the strength of the force.

3 I annex a statement of the Inspector's Services in the Police Department and hope that he may be considered entitled to some compassinate grant. I can testify to his having worked hard till failing health prevented his doing so. His health will not allow, I fear, of his obtaining any other employment.

4 In conclusion I would remark that I have no reason to believe that the Inspectors habits were intemperate. It was reported that at one time while at Coconada during my absence in England that he had given way at a time when he was much depressed by domestic troubles and a severe accident but this has never been Confirmed by actual observation –
