ORDER THEREON, 18th October 1869, No. 350.

With the foregoing letters the Acting Inspector General of Police submits applications for pensions and gratuities to certain officers of the Madras Town Police. The pensions have been calculated under the provisions of Act XIII. of 1856, and the gratuities are recommended at the rate of one month's pay for each year's service under the new Pension Rules.

2. The Government observe that by Section 2, Act VIII. of 1867, all the provisions of Act XXIV. of 1859, (and in this expression the rules passed by Government under that Act must be held to be included,) are made applicable to officers of the Town Police, "unless so far as the contrary is herein expressly declared." The only declarations to the contrary are contained in Section 3 of the same Act, and have reference only to such members of the Town Police Force as belonged to it, and were subscribers to its Fund "at the time this Act comes into operation," i.e., on the 1st September 1867. The declarations are to the effect that no such subscriber shall be liable to any monthly deductions from his pay at a greater rate than half-an-anna in the rupee, or shall be deprived of any of the privileges which he would have had under Sections 18 and 19 of Act XIII. of 1856.

3. The intention of the Legislature clearly was that the position of the Town Policemen should be assimilated with that of the Mofussil Force as far as might be done without depriving them of peculiar benefits to which they might be admitted under Act XIII. of 1856, and the application of the Mofussil Superannuation Rules to the Town Police appears to be not only consistent with this intention, but also likely to simplify procedure to a valuable extent. This measure will also do away with the anomalous, and, it would appear, illegal system under which gratuities have heretofore been granted to men of the Town Police from the Superannuation Fund under the Uncovenanted Civil Service Gratuity Rules.

4. The Government observe that the Superannuation Fund Rules are more favourable than Act XIII. of 1856 in providing for the grant of gratuities, for admission to pension after fifteen instead of sixteen years' service, for increased pensions after eighteen and twenty-one years, and for a retiring allowance, instead of pension on incapacity after twenty-four years' service, the average pay on which the allowance is to be computed being further calculated on a less period. The lower maximum of subscription payable under Act XIII. of 1856, is not now, and probably never will be, of practical importance. The wounds and injuries allowance (Section 19) is scarcely ever needed, and in the rare cases which may occur may be granted to Constables entitled to claim it as having been in the Force on the 1st September 1867. As regards the higher pensions obtainable under Act XIII. of 1856, on which the Acting Inspector General remarks in his letter of the 15th July 1869, the Government observe that apart from the fact that these pensions are merely maxima, and not to be claimed as of right by the men, they are due to the adventitious circumstance that the rates of pay in the Town Police are higher than in corresponding grades in the Mofussil Force; and the provisos appended to Rules II. and III. of the Superannuation Rules exactly meet this case, and will admit of pensions of not less amounts than those calculated under Act XIII. of 1866 being granted. It appears, therefore, that the saving clause inserted in Section 3, Act VIII. of 1867, will not be infringed by the application of the Mofussil Rules to the Town Police Force, and His Excellency in Council accordingly directs that, in future, the pensions of Town Policemen shall be calculated under the provisos to Rules II. and III. of the Superannuation Fund Rules subject to the limitation ordinarily observed in the Pension Department, requiring the rejection of fractions in excess of quarter, half, and three-quarters of a rupee, and that gratuities to Town Policemen shall be granted under Rule I. The Governor in Council accordingly sanctions, under the provisions of the Police Service and Superannuation Fund Rules, the grant from that Fund of the pensions and gratuities specified in the annexed list.

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Pension Department, 18th October 1869.

5. An application for pension from the Police Superannuation Fund has been submitted on behalf of Head Constable Nellore Balu Prasád. This individual was G. I., 7th March 1864, No. 1232, and (M. G. Procs., 31st March 1864, No. 192.) in receipt of Rupees 22 per mensem, and must, under the orders of the Government of India noted in the margin, be pensioned from the general revenues under the Uncovenanted Civil Service Rules. The Inspector General will submit a register of application in his case in the usual course, as well as in that of Head Constable Krishnamma Chári recommended for gratuity in his letter, dated 17th May 1869. So much of G. O., 1st March 1867, No. 328, as makes Head Constables of the Town Police subscribers to, and entitled to pension from, the Superannuation Fund in contravention of the orders of the Government of India above noted, is cancelled, but without retrospective effect.

6. The Constables numbered 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 16, 17, 21, 22, and 23, having during their service been reduced for misconduct of various kinds, reduced pensions and gratuities have been granted to them as shown in the list.

7. It is observed that Deputy Constable Mylapore Nagojee Row, (No. 9,) died on the 25th March 1869, the arrears of pension from 1st February to 25th March 1869, to which the deceased is entitled, will, therefore, be paid to his legal heirs.

From,

To,
The Honorable R. S. Ellis Esq.
Chief Secretary to Government Fort Saint George.

Sir,
With reference to memorandum No 25 of the 1st instant in the Pension Department relative to applications for Pension to certain members of the Madras Town Police Force, I have the honor to submit the following remarks.

2. Pensions on the scale laid down in Act XIII of 1856 were recommended on the ground that section 3 of Act VIII of 1867 merely preserved all privileged which Town Policemen would have had under sections 18 & 19 of Act

PENSION.

The INSPECTOR GENERAL OF POLICE.

OCTOBER.

(Granting pensions and gratuities to certain constables of the Madras Town Police Force.)

Act XIII of 1856, previous to the abolition of the Police Superannuation Fund constituted under that Act, without absolutely providing for any change in the scale of pensions to be granted to such Policemen.

3. The lower maximum rate of subscription is not in all cases the only benefit preserved to the members of the Town Police - e.g.

(a) A Head Constable of 16 years service would be eligible under Act XIII to a pension of Ruppes 7-5-4 (if he had served for 5 years continuously in that grade, immediately before pension) whereas under the Madras Police (Act XXIV of 1859) Rules he would only be entitled to Ruppes 4-12-0.

(b) A Deputy Constable of 16 years service would be entitled (under similar conditions) to Ruppes 4 whereas he could only only obtain a pension of Ruppes 3-8 under the Mafussil Rules.

(c) Do 1st Class Constable Ruppes instead of Ruppes 2-12-0

4. On the whole, however, the rules under Act XXIV are more favorable. The following Statement shows what the pensions in the cases in question would be under both rules -

Names	Total period of service	under Act XIII of 1856		under section II & III of Rules frame under Act XXIV of 1859
Head Constable
Balaprasad -	18	5	3	8	5-8-0
Deputy Constable
Linguppan -	17	4	"	"	3-8-0 1 st Class Constable
Ramdasam -	21	2	12	7	3-4-0
" Mohedeen Khan	16	2	12	7	2-12-0
" Syed Qomur	22	3	"	"	3-4-0 2 ^d Ramannah	19	2	11	2	3-4-0
" Sawmyadas	20	2	10	8	3-4-0
" Sheik Nafsin	20	2	10	8	3-4-0
" Bhengulroyach	16	2	7	3	2-12-0 3 ^d Narraimadasam	20	2	10	3	3-4-0
" Syed Calsim	17	2	10	1	2-12-0
Dy. Const. Nagojle Row	22	3	12	7	4-8-0
Kindal Malayappallay	20	4	"	"	4-0-0

5. I am not aware of any Town Police man having been admitted to the benefits of Rule I. In the case of Constable Mooneswamy (G. O. No 236 of 28th July 1868) the gratuity was granted under the General (not Madras Police) Pension and Gratuity Rules of the Uncovenanted Civil Service, under which rules gratuities have always been granted to members of the Town Police Force.

6. By G. O. 1st March 1867 No 328 sanctioning the reorganisation of the Madras Town Police Force simultaneously with the introduction of Act VIII of 1867, the scale of pay to the different grades of the Town Police subscribing to Superannuation Fund is fixed at higher rates than obtain in the corresponding grades of the Mafussil Force - thus the men enjoy the advantage of higher pay which in some cases (but not in all) extends itself into the rate of Pension.

Reorganization
Effect of Act

1st March
1st July 1867

7. Again the rates laid down in the Rules of the general Police Superannuation Fund are but tentative and liable to change at the option of the Government whereas the rates of pension laid down in Act XIII of 1856 are permanently secured to men entertained under that Act. Superannuation Funds having been swept away by Act X of 1869 (Government of India) this might possibly prove hereafter to be a very solid advantage.

8. It is obvious that in cases where the rates under Act XIII of 1856 are the most favorable, the men will still be entitled to them by section 3 Act VIII of 1867. It will therefore be for the Government to decide under the view of the Case now presented, if Pensions are to be granted under both the old and the new rules according according as the one or the other may be most favorable to the applicant, or if all Pensions to members of the Madras Town Police Force entertained under act XIII of 1856 are to be granted according to the rates provided for in that act. I think the latter course is the most con=venient and that (considering the higher rates of pay and consequent enhanced rates of Pension in some cases) it is in no way inconsist=ent with justice or liberal treat=ment.

9. The Head Constables on Rupees 22 were admitted as sub=scribers to the Superannuation Fund under G.O. 1st March 1867 No 328.

Sir,

With reference to your Memo N^o 3023 dated 15th May 1869, I have the honor to remark that. Hitherto it has been the practice in this Office of submitting to Government a Roll of men of the Madras Town Police recommended for Superannuation Pensions under Section 18 of Act XIII of 1856. The men were examined by the Surgeon who certified to their incapacity for further duty in a column of the Statement provided for that purpose.

2. This was done this year; but you took objection to the practice and required a separate Medical Certificate for each man recommended for pension.
Some of the men left Madras after appearing before the Medical Officer and and being struck off the strength of the Force and amongst these was Deputy Constable Jayasany.

3 This man returned to Madras about the end of April and obtained the Medical Certificate on the 29th of that month.

4. I forward (the original roll to be returned) by which you will see that the men were all placed before the Medical Officer in January 1869.

Pension Department

Memorandum for Orders.

Letter from the Acting Inspector General of Police, N. 4540, dated 15th July 1869.

By 2nd Lt 10 June 1869 No 3386 + 3822.

The Acting Inspector General of Police with his letter noted in the margin, submitted applications for pensions and gratuities to a number of policemen belonging to the Madras Town Police Force. He has calculated the pensions at the rates laid down in Section 18 of Act VIII of 1856, at one third of the average salaries of the claimants for the last five years of their service; and as there appears some doubt with reference to Act VIII

of 1867. whether he is correct in so doing, it has been thought advisable, though pensions calculated as he proposes have been sanctioned since the passing of that Act, to lay a statement of these doubts before Government, and to stay the grant of pensions pending their instructions.

2. By Section 3, Act VIII of 1867 (Madras) the old Town Police Superannuation Fund constituted and regulated by Sections 17, 18, and 19, of Act VIII of 1856, was amalgamated with the Municipal Police Superannuation ^{Fund} constituted by Section 12 Act XXIV of 1859, and regulated by the "Police Service and Superannuation Fund Rules" framed by the Government of Madras under the direction and power given in that Act. Section 2, Act VIII of 1867 runs thus:—"The Police of the Town of Madras shall be incorporated with, and form a part of, the General Police Force of the Madras Presidency, and the Town of Madras shall form a part of the General Police District; and all the provisions of Act XXIV of 1859 shall apply to persons who at present do belong or who hereafter may belong to the Town Police, unless so far as the contrary is herein expressly declared."

The only such express declaration in the Act now material, is contained in Section 3, in these words,

"but no person who is a subscriber subscriber to the Town Police Superannuation Fund at the time this Act comes into operation, shall be liable to any monthly deduction from his pay at a greater rate than half an anna in the rupee, or shall be deprived of any of the privileges which he would have had under Sections 18 and 19, of Act XIII of 1856."

3. The "Police Service and Superannuation Fund Rules" drawn up under Section 12 of Act XXIV of 1859, must be considered as part of that Act, and accordingly, so far as is not expressly declared, have been made applicable to the Town Police by section 2. Act VIII of 1867. Therefore they apply to all members

* See Proceedings 26th Sept. 1864, N^o 1102.

of the Town Police who did not belong to it on the 1st September 1867, the date on which the Act came into operation, and to all those who did belong to it on that date, unless by applying them, any privileges conferred by sections 18 and 19 Act XIII of 1856, may be trench upon.

4. The pensions receivable by the Town Policemen under Act XIII of 1856, are in some cases greater, and in others less, than those which are fixed for the Mofussil Police by the Superannuation Rules, but on the whole, the scale laid down by the latter is more favorable to the men than that of Act XIII. The following are the chief points in which this is true:-

true.

(i) Rule I provides for the grant of gratuities to men who become incapacitated after seven years service. No gratuities can be given under Act XIII of 1856.

(ii) Rule II admits men to pension after 15 years service. The minor limit under Act XIII is 16 years.

(iii) Fixed pensions are granted after 15 years service at rates slightly in excess of $\frac{1}{3}$ rd of the average pay of each rank without reference to the length of time served in it. Under Act XIII, to secure $\frac{1}{3}$ rd of the pay of his rank, a man must have been 5 years in the grade.

(iv) Under Rule III increased pensions are allowed after each interval of three years.

Private Constables — Rs. 12-0
Deputy Head Constables — 3-8-0
Head Constables — 4-12-0

* adding for Private Constables — 4 annas.

Deputy Head Constables — 8 —

years additional service, viz: at 18 and 21 years respectively. Under Act XIII the pension will be calculated in the same way whether the service be 16 or 23 years.

(v) Under Rule IV, after 24 years service, a man can retire upon half pay, calculated upon the average of the wages received by him during the three years last past. Under Act XIII the period is 5 years. Further, under that Act, the half pay pension is a superannuation not a retiring allowance. i.e. it will be granted only to men incapacitated for further service.

5. On the other hand Act XIII of 1856, is more favorable

The words retiring allowance are used in Sec. 17. Act XIII of 1856, but it is quite clear that the 1st part of Section 18, which makes incapacity a condition, applies to all which follows.

favorable to the men than Act ~~XIV~~ of 1867 and the rules framed under it, in the following ways:—

(i). The maximum limit of subscription is half an anna in the rupee, instead of one anna. The Mofussil rate levied is however only half an anna.

(ii). Men who have served 15 years, the last 5 being in one grade*, will receive higher pensions than the fixed amounts granted in that grade under the "Police Superannuation Fund Rules".[©] This is a result which is due to the higher rates of pay of the Town Po. Force rather than of the greater liberality of the provisions of Act ~~XIII~~ of 1856.

(iii). Under Section 19, Police of. ficers of the Town Force who may be disabled by wounds or injuries received in the execution of their duty, may be

* or, more accurately, a sole average pay for the last 5 years of service exceeds three times the amount of pension fixed for the corresponding grades by the Superannuation Rules.

© The difference is greatest in the Head Constable grade. A Head Constable in Madras draws Rs 22, and in the Mofussil only Rs 14. There are 28 Head Constables in the Madras P. Force. If the rule observed in the Civil Pension Department of rejecting all fractions in excess of quarters, half, or three quarters of a rupee, be enforced with regard to these pensions, many of the differences in favor of Act ~~XIII~~ of 1856 will vanish. Should this rule be applied to Police Pensions?

I think it should be applied.
A.A.

to which Major Searn alludes Act 8 of 1867 has not yet come into force, the notification to that effect required by Sec 2 not having yet been published; but even if that Act were in force, & the funds abolished, the pensions would still be granted under the same rules as heretofore, pending revision of the law by the Govt. of India. 1867 be granted an allowance not exceeding half pay.

b. Major Searn considers that where the rates under Act ~~XIII~~ are more favorable, the men can claim them under Section 3, Act ~~XIII~~ of 1867. But these rates are merely maxima within which the pensions are restricted and the sections of Act ~~XIII~~ confer no rights or privileges in this respect upon the men. The only real privilege preserved by Section 3, Act ~~XIII~~, is the lower maximum rate of subscription, and that is practically unimportant as there is little likelihood of the mofussil rate being raised. Major Searn goes on to say that the question is whether the pensions shall be granted according to the scale which may be the more favorable, or whether all

Salary per mensem at the

all new 'entertained under Act XIII of 1856¹⁸⁵⁶ are to be pensioned on the scale provided in that Act. He recommends the latter course. But to apply Act XIII of 1856 when it is less favorable than the Superannuation Fund Rules, seems to be as much an infraction of section 2 of Act VIII of 1857, as to apply the rules in the converse case would, according to Major Hedderley, be of section 3.

But the Superannuation Fund Rules themselves seem intended to provide for the hardship which might be caused by the grant of pensions at the fixed rates. There are certain provisos (copied in the margin) appended to Rules II and III.

Rule II. "Provided that should any alteration take place in the rates of wages of these classes, the pension claimable shall not exceed one third of the average rate of wages received by the claimant during the five years last past."

Rule III. "Provided that should any alteration take place in the rate of wages of these classes, such increase shall not exceed 5 per cent of the wages received by the respective claimants during the five years last past."

III.

III which preserve the ratio of pension to pay, when the latter may exceed that on which the fixed rates laid down for each grade were calculated. It would be within the spirit of the rules to apply these provisos to the Town Police, whose pay is higher in each grade than the maximum rates; and if this be done their pensions will be calculated exactly as under Act XIII, and the additional benefits mentioned in para 4. supra will be conferred upon them. Further the provisos would apply to all Town Policemen whether in the force or not on the 1st September 1857, and ^{it} would be a real hardship were those who.

who were not in the force on that date to receive only the fixed rates laid down in the Superannuation rules, which are the utmost that can be given them unless the proviso be applied. The letter of the proviso seems, however, to require a change before they can be applied to the Town Policemen. The higher rates of pay enjoyed by the men can hardly be said to be due to an attraction as they were in force on the 1st April 1867 or before the 1st September 1867, when the Superannuation Rules became applicable to the Town Police. A very slight change in the wording would remedy this.

Vide G.O. 1st March 1867, No 328.

* I should have liked to adopt the one suggested in clause (iii) below which seems to me the more strictly legal. But no doubt clause (iv) proposes the plainer & less complicated plan. I am not to delay the matter I mean with Mr. Ashburn. I would follow it. If a few cases arise where the provisions of Act XIII/56 would better have been retained, certainly they can be treated specially.

W.D.

I am with Mr. Ashburn but I am disposed to think this answer in part. A.P.

8. There are thus four plans, any of which may be adopted in pensioning the Town Police.

- (i) Regarding the privileges supposed to be preserved, as illusory, to give the fixed pensions of the Superannuation Rules.
- (ii) To give pensions according to the scale which may be the more favorable, in the cases to which Act XIII may be applied.
- (iii) To pension all men to whom Act XIII is applicable on the scale therein laid down.
- (iv) To apply the Superannuation Rules in their entirety to all Town Policemen whether they belonged to the force on the 1st September 1867, or not.

9. The last plan seems to be the simplest, most comprehensive, and least likely to cause inequality, present or prospective. By confining the "wounds and injuries" allowances (section 19. Act ~~III~~ of 1856) in the rare cases in which Government may see fit to grant it, strictly to those men to whom Act ~~III~~ may still be applied, the provision will gradually become obsolete, and cases which may occur with other persons may, as in the Mofussil Police, be specially dealt with.*

* G.O. 7th February 1856. N. 291.

10. The last plan has another and not inconsiderable advantage, viz: that it will get rid of the anomalous system under which gratuities are now granted to men of

133 of the Town Police, ^{Force} Act ~~III~~ of 1856 contains no provision authorizing the grant of gratuities, but nevertheless such have from time to time been granted. Up to June 1858 they were calculated under the uncoerced service gratuity rules of 1851; but in July 1858 a gratuity at the rate of one month's pay for each year's service was granted to a Constable, under the revised uncoerced service pension rules ^{of 1854}. In the first place, the legality of authorising disbursements from the fund constituted under Act ~~III~~ of 1856, of a kind, and under conditions not authorized by the Act is doubtful. In the second place the grant under the new rules was inadmissible. By G.O.

G.O. 15th April 1866,
 The service for gratuity under the new rules must be service in grades eligible for pension, i.e. with salaries of more than 10 Rs. per mensem*. But the Constable in question receives more than Rs. 9. These difficulties and anomalies will be got over if the Superannuation fund rules be held applicable to the Town Police. Gratuities can then be granted under Rule I.
 A number of applications are now awaiting the decision of Government on this point. It is submitted that the intention of Act VIII of 1867 was to assimila--late the positions of the Town and Mofussil Forces, and that to apply the mofussil rules as far as possible will be in

* The eligibility referred to is of course eligibility under the new pension rules.

accordance with that intention.

12 There is one other point in connexion with the present applications upon which the Orders of Govern-ment are required. One of the claimants is a Head Constable of the Town Police on Rs 22 per mensem; and under G.O. Judicial Department N° 328 dated 1st March 1867, Officers of this rank belonging to the re-organized Town Police, were made subscribers to the Police Superannuation Fund, and are to be pen-sioned from that source.
 This order appears to be in direct contravention of the Orders of the Govern-ment of India contained in the resolutions noted in the margin. In the first

 -ment directed that all Police officers entertained under Act XXIV of 1859, who receive more than shall be pensioned from the general revenues and relieved from subscription to Superannuation funds; and in the second it is declared that this ruling also applies to the Police Force organized in Madras under Act VIII of 1856. At the date of the Order of this Government above referred to, that Act was still in force; and it is submitted that the Order should be either re-considered, or the present opportunity taken of reporting it for the confirmation of the Government of India. In-

A.A.

With the foregoing letters the Acting Inspector General of Police submits applications for pensions and gratuities to certain officers of the Madras Town Police. The pensions have been calculated under the provisions of Act XIII of 1856, and the gratuities are recommended at the rate of one month's pay for each year's service under the new pension rules.
The

2. The Government observe that ^{By Section} Act VIII of 1867, all the provisions of Act XXIV of 1859 (and in this expression the rules passed by Government under that Act must be held to be included) are made applicable to officers of the Town Police, "unless so far as the contrary is herein expressly declared." The only declarations to the contrary are contained in Section 3 of the same Act, and have reference only to such members of the Town Police force as belonged to it, and were subscribers to its Fund, "at the time this Act comes into operation" i.e. on the 1st September 1867 - The ~~declarations~~ ^{declarations} ~~are~~ ^{to the effect} are, that no such subscribers shall be liable to any monthly deductions from his pay at a greater rate than half an anna in the Rupee, or shall be deprived of any of the privileges which he would have had under Sections 18 & 19 of Act XIII of 1856.

3. The intention of the Legislature clearly was that the position of the Town Police men should be assimilated with that of the Municipal Force as far as might be done without depriving them of peculiar benefits to which they might be admitted under Act XIII of 1856, and the application of the Municipal Superannuation Rules to the Town Police appears to be not only consistent with this intention, but also likely to simplify procedure to a valuable extent. This measure will also do away with the anomalous, and, it would appear, illegal system under which gratuities have heretofore been granted to men of the Town Police from the Superannuation Fund under the U.C.S. gratuity rules.

The Government
observe that the Superannuation Fund Rules are more favorable than Act XIII of 1856 in providing for the grant of gratuities for admission to pension after 15 instead of 16 years service, for increased pensions after 18 and 21 years,

years, and for a retiring allowance, instead of pension on incapacity after 24 years service the average pay on which the allowance is to be computed being further calculated on a less period. The lower maximum of subscription payable under Act XIII of 1856, is not now, and probably never will be, of practical importance. The wounds and injuries allowance (see 19) is scarcely ever needed, and in the rare cases which may occur may be granted to constables entitled to claim it as having been in the force on the 1st September 1867. As regards the higher pensions obtainable under Act XIII of 1856, on which the Acting Inspector General remarks in his letter of the 15th July 1869, the Government observe that apart from

from the fact that these pensions are merely maxima and not to be claimed as of right by the men, they are due to the adventitious circumstances that the rates of pay in the Town Police are higher than in corresponding grades in the Muzaffar force; and the provisos appended to Rules II and III of the Superannuation Rules exactly meet this case and will admit of pensions of not less amounts than those calculated under Act VIII of 1866 being granted. It appears therefore that the saving clause inserted in Section 3 Act VIII of 1867, will not be infringed by the application of the Muzaffar rules to the Town Police force, and His Excl.
Majesty in Council accordingly directs that in future, the pensions of Town Policemen shall be calculated under the provisos to Rules II and III

G.O. 4 March 1864, No 1252, and (M.L. Prot. 31st March 1864, No 192).
G.O. 5 October 1865, No 2745 and (M.L. Prot. 1st Nov. 1865, No 1557) of the Superannuation Fund rules subject to the limitation ordinarily observed in the Pension Department, requiring the rejection of fractions in excess of quarter, half and three-quarters of a rupee, and that gratuities to Town Policemen shall be granted under Rule I. The Governor in Council accordingly sanctions under the provisions of the Police Service and Superannuation Fund Rules, the grant from that Fund of the pensions & gratuities specified in the annexed list.

5. An application for pension from the Police Superannuation Fund has been submitted on behalf of Head Constable Mellow Balu Prasad. This individual was in receipt of Rs 22 per mensem, and must, under the Orders of the Government of India noted in the margin, be pensioned from the general Revenue under the U.S. Rules.
The.

The Inspector General will submit a register of applications in his case as well as in that of Head Constable in the usual course. To much of ^{Krishnamma Chari} ~~ded for gratuity in his letter dated~~ 4.0.1st March 1867. N 528, as made 17th May 1867.

Head Constables of the Town Police Subscribers to, and entitled to pension from, the Superannuation Fund in contravention of the Orders of the Government of India above noted, is cancelled, but without retrospective effect.

6. The Constables numbered 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 16, 17, 21, 22 & 23 having during their service been reduced for misconduct of various kinds, reduced pensions and gratuities have been granted to them as shown in the list.

7. It is observed that Dy. Constable Mylapore Nagjee Row (N 9) died on the 25th March 1867. The arrears of pension from 1st February to 25th March 1867 to which the deceased is entitled will therefore be paid to his legal heirs.
