Proceedings of the Madras Government, Marine Department,

8th August 1870.

No. 6. Read the following Despatch from the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for India, to His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council, dated India Office, London, 26th May 1870, No. 145 :—

I have received your Marine Letter, No. 1, of the 25th January last, regarding the rules under which Marine Engineers should be placed as regards furlough, sick leave, and pension on retirement, and having fully considered the subject in Council, I am unable to accede to the full extent of your recommendation, that there should be no distinction in regard to the rules under which furlough should be granted to them, and that all should be alike subject to the Uncovenanted Furlough Rules.

2. Those Engineers at your Presidency, in the Marine Department, who were engaged under covenant prior to the abolition of the late Indian Navy, it is understood, from Captain Howe's letter to your Government, of the 3rd December 1869, No. 6165, enjoy all the same privileges as regards pay, furlough, furlough allowance, passage money, and pension on retirement, as do those at Bombay who were engaged in this country before such abolition. They should, therefore, be allowed the option of continuing to serve under the terms of their covenants, whatever those terms may be, or under the Uncovenanted Rules, whichever may be the most advantageous to them, it being clearly understood that, when once they have made their election, they must abide by it for so long as they may remain in the employ of your Government.

3. With regard, however, to all those Engineers who have been appointed subsequent to the abolition of the Indian Navy, I have decided that they shall be placed under the Uncovenanted Service Rules, as recommended by you.

* No. 69, dated this day.

4. I have communicated my decision in this matter to the Government of Bombay in a Despatch,* a copy of which is forwarded herewith.

In reference to the correspondence noted in the margin, regarding the supply of returns of Europeans and others in the employ of the Marine Department of your Presidency, I request that all casualties which may occur in the Marine Establishment may be reported home in the shape of a casualty roll, as used formerly to be the case.
