In reply to Pension Report Memo from the Examiner of Claims dated 27th September 1869.

No. 39. P. Pareanoyagum does not appear from the Records of the Mint Office to have been confirmed in the post of Filer on the 1st April 1855 with retrospective effect from 1st August 1851, as it had been customary with Colonel J. T. Smith while he was Mint Master to make all appointments acting in the first instance and in confirming the appointment no record is found of its being with retrospective effect most probably because there was no regulation of the kind in existence then, and that P. Pareanoyagum whilst acting drew the full salary of the appointment.

2. G. C. Englefield has been four years on the permanent Establishment, and appears entitled to a gratuity of Rs 160.0.0.

3. Filer M. Nynachay has been continuously employed since the 1st May 1842 making a total service of over twenty seven years, and if he had belonged to the Establishment he would now be entitled to a pension equivalent to half of his last salary. It so happens however that the first twenty years about was on the contingent list, and his case is similar to others that I have already reported on, and there being no regular rule on the subject I find a difficulty in deciding whether he should be considered a permanent servant or not. His calling was not of that nature that I would feel justified in saying that it was necessary in his case, as in that of some others who were always regarded as permanent servants, that he should be retained whether coinage was going on or not; and yet the fact remains that his service has been continuous, and that he was retained in employ during periods of the Mint being closed for settlements, and at other times when there was no coinage.

4. The case of G. Stevens Spring Plate Maker is similar in regard to his service as a Turner in the Laminating room and in the Stamping room prior to the 7th July 1858, when he was brought on the Establishment.

5. Filer Pondichery Paramayogunee's case is a peculiar one. His service commenced on 1st May 1842, has been continuous, and amounts to twenty seven years, of which the last seventeen were on the establishment. Most of his previous contingent service however, such as Cutting Die filer and first class setter and Examiner was of a permanent nature as men for those duties are not procurable as wanted, and are necessarily continued in pay at all times. A revision of establishment in 1848 led to his losing his situation on the 30th April in that year, when he was continued on lower wages as a common filer for more than three years, and this was not necessarily a permanent post, and yet he continued in it until brought on the Establishment.

under the old Rules.

2. Muttyalapetta Nyanachari served as a filer on the Contingent Establishment for 2 years and 2 months but has to his credit only his subsequent service of 8 years and 11 months as a filer on the Establishment. The Examiner of Claims states that he is eligible under the old Rules to a gratuity of three months' pay or Rs 60. As, however, the occupation of a filer has been declared prejudicial to health, he can claim under the new Rules six months pay or Rs 120. His character is said to have been very good.

3. Thomas Stevens served served on the Contingent Establishment 11-4-27 and on the Establishment 10-10-25 as a spring plate maker. He is reported to have been well conducted and is eligible under the old Rules to a gratuity of Rs 120, or four months pay.

4. Pondicherry Parianayagam served for 9-3-0 on the Contingent Establishment and subsequently for 17 years & 10 months as a filer on the Establishment. The former service does not count for pension. At the commencement of his service on the Establishment he was acting, it is said, on probation for 3 years and 8 months, and if this period be included, as recommended by Col. Carpendale, he will be eligible to pension. Government have however refused to include similar service in other cases, and there remains therefore 14 years and 2 months, which, as the applicant was a filer, can be counted towards gratuity under the new rules. His conduct was good and he is eligible to a gratuity of 12 months' pay, or Rs 360 under the new Rules.

5. His Excellency the Governor in Council is accordingly pleased to sanction the disbursement of the undermentioned gratuities to which the applicants applicants are eligible as above stated.—
