Service qualifying for pension is proved for a total period of..	12	10
	Rs.	A.	P.

In the last 5 years of his service the average pay of the applicant's permanent post was 10 - 8 - ..
Applicant is eligible to a pension of Rupees not any per annum, equal to of his average salary during the last 5 years, under Clause Section of the Revised Pension Rules, as recommended by the Lillak Surgeon Mallone, as he appears to have entered Government Service when he was only years 17-3-17 and to have attained the age of 22 on the 13th June 1862.

The applicant, is, however, eligible to a gratuity not exceeding Rupees 73-8-4 equal to 7 months salary, under the new rules, and under the Order of Government of 12th January 1868 No. 431 Financial, for his service of years 12-10- in addition to the gratuity of Rupees 52-8-4 equal to 5 months salary under the old rules, as his service entitles him to a gratuity not exceeding 12 months salary, under the new pension rules.

Op. 59

Memo for order.

In January 1868, the Govt. of India ruled that Vaccination on Rs 10 upwards were to be eligible to pension. In May 1869, on the petition of one of the vaccinators thrown out on reduction in 1865, after nearly 30 years service, the Madras Govt. submitted his case to the Govt. of India, for special treatment, and also recommended generally that retrospective effect should be given to the resolution.

2. The Govt. of India replied by sanctioning the grant of a pension to Vervasvami the petitioner, and authorizing the Govt. of Madras to dispose of similar cases in like manner.

para 4 of letter dated 18th May 1869. "in the opinion of H.E. the Govt. of India it is just and expedient to extend the benefits of the Pension rules to vaccinators who were superannuated & received gratuities under the old rules, prior to the resolution above quoted; and I am to request that this Govt. may be authorized to give retrospective effect to the resolution, and to deal accordingly with the very few cases in which the pension may be necessary."

Note. There are six cases in which the service exceeds thirty years.

Q. No 577
23rd August 1860

3. Several pensions have been granted under these orders, both at one third & one half rates of Salary; but some cases have now come up in which men whose service is too short to entitle them to pension, claim a revision of the gratuity, which was paid to them under the old rules, by the further payment of the difference between those gratuities, and the sums which would be payable for their service qualifying under the new rules.

4. I submit that this claim is unreasonable, and was not anticipated when the application to the Govt. of India was made. It was then intended to benefit only those whose service by its length would entitle them to pension.

I think the same should be paid in all cases where the vaccinated received only a gratuity under circumstances which would not entitle him to pension.

But I would not wish any gratuity already granted to have the recipient, even under the present rules, entitled only to gratuity.

S. D. S.

②. Almost all the vaccination, who were thrown out with gratuity under the old rules, have served in eligible grades periods sufficient to entitle them to higher gratuity under the new rules. They will come up in great numbers if the present system become precedents.

I of course a list was drawn out at the time. The words "superannuated" & "the very few cases," used in the Madras Govt's letter indicate the intention; and the authorization of the Govt. of India applies to "similar cases" to Verrasamy's. His service was 29y. 3m. 18d.

5. Still the resolution, which retrospective effect, was asked for, (but not, it would seem, unconditionally granted) authorizes both pension & gratuity; and the Act. General supposing that the retrospective effect was complete, has ~~reported~~ ^{reported} that the present claim for revision of gratuity are well founded.

6. Orders are requested.

I was ^{not} intended that the application for sanction to the admission of recruits retired before 1868 to the benefit of the new rules, should apply to those whose service was short of the period necessary to entitle them to pension. The Government do not consider that the spirit of the concession should extend to a mere revision of
