Register of an application for Gratuity in behalf

2. Under the orders of the Govt of India noted in the margin, the period during which he acted might be counted for gratuity under the new rules, if the vacancy was a full one. It appears, however, from the translation of the ~~dated~~ of appointment that the applicant was appointed "to act for the Inspector", who, it is presumed, was the permanent holder and was acting elsewhere. (The Acting Collector should have replied more distinctly ^{respecting this point.})
By to the query, ^{respecting this point.} Under these circumstances, the applicant can only count, under the new rules, the period of his permanent employment as Revenue Inspector; and is entitled to

G. I. 31st January 1868 22633

to a gratuity of six months' pay or Rs 180 and not seven months' pay or Rs 210 as reported by the Accountant General. The former ^{amount} is sanctioned.
