Memorandum.

In reply to the Honble Mr. Sim's question regarding Hoying's Pension Case I should state that the reason most probably was,
that on the former occasion, all he wanted to obtain the maximum gratuity (six months pay) was for service over 20 years. Afterwards finding that in many cases (since the Cyclone) compassionate allowances have been granted on the mere statements of the applicants, he determined to try his chance. I am convinced that many of these allowances have been fraudulently obtained owing to the loose way in which the affidavits are

are taken, and the facility with which they have been admitted in the Government Office. There is great difficulty in overturning precedents in these cases, and it is but very rarely that the affidavit furnishes external evidence of falsehood.
If the men were even cross examined, asked who were collectors, when they served, under whose immediate orders they were, who their contemporaries were, and so on, there would be some check. But in Hindua, a cut and dried statement is prepared by the Sticher Clerk, invariably in the same terms, and is verified by the applicant on oath. I beg to suggest that in future every case of the kind be sent back for more thorough inquiry.

x There is a case now in hand
a man who claims service
sustained by the Robertson. Up to 1839 there was only one Robertson in the service employed in Rajimandrie & he was Collector from 1819 to 1824.

A recent notification of the Government of India directs that the simple affidavit is not to be ac-cepted without corrobora-tion from contemporary employes. It is remarka-ble that no difficulty seems to be found ^{in the Kijna District} in verifying the service of
who come from the higher grades. I do not remem-ber a single ^{case} ~~instance~~ of an affidavit in support of service claimed by such persons. H.S. BM
