The humble petition of

Sir

I respectfully beg to represent that my late lamented husband served in the Goleghat and Rajahmundry Seebundee Corps for 13 years; on the organization of the Police he was transferred to that establishment and continued in the service for another period of 8 years, the major portion of which he spent in the hilly and unhealthy tracts of Rumpah. During this long

my career he discharged the onerous and multifarious duties of his position to the highest satisfaction of all his superiors. In 1868 he was dangerously wounded by a wild bear while proceeding on a patrol to some of the villages in the vicinity of Chodaram and which terminated fatally after a tedious illness of several months. Subsequent to his decease, I was compelled to seek the assistance of my friends at Chicacole but finding that they were unable to afford me and my children any protection, I was constrained to travel after the way back and to solicit your aid to recommend me to the gratuity my late husband was entitled to for his service.

in the Police for which act of benevolence I shall as in duty bound ever pray.

Submitted but there are sections of fiction with case & detail which almost certainly the doctor favored.
The following is the principle case drawn by the Support from the record of cases of this kind.
"Previous operations in Gout only have injury or death," under the performance of a duty which is attended with extraordinary boldness but the fact provides no claim in account often of eyes or injury reaching from near accidents."

to visit a Village in his range through a pass in the hills when attacked by the animal, which seized him above the knee crushing the bone. The attack was quite unprovoked, the animal leaving the Inspector on the approach of a police man who followed at some distance.

3. The Inspector remained under treatment at the Rajahmundry Police Hospital till April 1868 when he was declared Convalescent and permitted by the Medical Officer to leave the Hospital for a few days previous to being sent back to his Taluk, as it was considered that though badly crippled he might possibly be able to perform the duties required of him. He was at the time very weak and much much reduced in strength.

4. During this interval the Inspector obtained some medicine from a native practitioner in the bazaar which acted so powerfully on his enfeebled frame that he died on the 10th April.

5. As the Superintendent of Police considered that the Inspector's death was caused by his own imprudence and not immediately by the wounds inflicted by the bear, he made no application for the gratuity which would have been due to the Inspector had he left the force on medical grounds.

6. The widow now applies for the gratuity which would have been due to her deceased husband had he retired from the service after the accident. She stated that she she has not hitherto done so owing to the misconduct of her friends.

She is now without means of livelihood and almost dependant on charity-

7. Inspector Appoodoo served in the Golconda Sibbundy Corps for several years till his transfer to the Rajahmundry Sibbundy in 1858 with which Corps he served till it was incorporated with the Police in June 1861. The exact period of his service in the Golconda Sibbundy cannot be ascertained owing to the non-existence of records of that Corps, the members of which were not eligible for pension.

8. His conduct during his service in the Police was unexceptionable.

The Hill force of the Godavery District

Composed

composed almost entirely of a class of men, natives of the Hill tracts who had never before been induced to enter Government service, was raised and trained by him, and the Government road into the Rumpu Country was cleared entirely under his Superintendence by the natives of the Zemindary. His conduct during the disturbance in the Rumpu Country in 1862 met with the high approbation of the Inspector General and he was promoted to Inspector in that Talook being the only man qualified for the Superintendence of the Police in the Hill tracts, which appointment he retained till his death.

9. Under these circumstances

I beg that Government will sanction the payment of Rupees 300-0-0 being the amount of gratuity which would have been due to him had he retired from the force on Medical Certificate after discharge from Hospital.

10. The books of the Hospital merely record that the Inspector died from fracture of the thigh. Considerable delay has been caused by references to Vizagapatnam for record of previous services.
