Explanation of Column 8 with quotations of orders of reinstatement.

Dismissed on the 1st August 1834 for having furnished copies of public Records to private parties without permission. Remained without employ till the 15th November 1835 when he was re-appointed Deputy Clerk under Collectors orders dated 17th November 1835. No. 819. Dismissed from 1st December 1863 to 10th June 1864 - 6 months & 10 days. For having in 1863 made out a deliberately false statement, in a list of his services then prepared by him for obtaining a superannuation Pension, that the cessation of his service in 1834 was caused by abolition of office, whereas in truth, he was dismissed for misconduct. (See above remarks).

Explanation of any degradation.

His degradation from 50 to 40 Rs. on 1st July 1860, was owing to the revision of Establishment in that year, when the Recordkeeper's salary was fixed at 40 Rs. a month.

Remarks by the head of the Office on past character and conduct of the applicant throughout the service.

His total service extends over the unusually long period of 48 years. Twice, & as late as 1863, he has gravely committed himself, nor can I gather that he has since borne the reputation of having been faithful as Recordkeeper, though nothing definite appears to have been brought against him. I have it to the Government to decide the amount of the pension to be granted.

Transmitted.
