I may premise that you are right in thinking the conditions of service for gratuity the same as those of service for pension.

The service of one man (555, C. Maola main Modely) is made up of three fragments, & whatever may be said of the others he at least can make no pretence of having thought that he was serving on a ~~permanent~~ permanent establishment.

PENSION DEPARTMENT.

No. 315.

FROM

D. F. CARMICHAEL, Esq.,

Acting Secretary to the Government of Fort St. George,

TO

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

The Government of India having objected* to the grant of gratuities to certain servants on the establishment of the Inam Commissioner, who were discharged on reduction of establishment after short periods of service, as reported in the statement submitted by this Government for the 4th quarter of 1870-71, on the ground that, where men have been entertained with the knowledge that the establishment was only temporary and was shortly to be reduced, short service should not be regarded as giving a title to gratuity on discharge, I am directed to draw the attention of the Government of India to a letter from this Government, dated 30th June 1870, No. 971, and the Order thereon, dated 29th July 1870, No. 2286.

2. It will be seen that the order of the 29th July 1870 is couched in general terms; that no restrictions as to length of service are imposed, but on the contrary that it is expressly laid down that "all service in the Inam Commission shall count towards pension in accordance with the operation of the general rules."

3. On the authority thereby conveyed gratuities have from time to time been granted to employes on the Inam Commissioner's Establishment for various short periods of service; and, as several applications are now pending, I am to point out that the order of the 22nd July 1871, No. 2273, is tantamount to a withdrawal of the privilege conceded by the order of the 29th July 1870, No. 2286, and introduces a condition not imposed by that order or by the general rules.—Vide Section 56, Civil Pension Code.

4. The former order quotes paragraph 2 of a letter from the Government of India, No. 3187, dated 24th November 1870, which, however, makes no mention of the period of service giving a title to pension, and, if construed with reference to the preceding paragraph, was obviously not intended to impose any restriction not contained in the order of the 29th July 1870, No. 2286. The fact that, in respect of the grants to which the Government of India took exception, service exceeded five years in all the cases and in one extended to eight years and three months, would seem to indicate that service should at any rate exceed the latter period, but the term "short service" is not defined in the communication referred to; and, under the general rules, service exceeding five years, even in the case of inferior servants, gives a title to gratuity.

Need I think any benefit can be given to these men's understanding their services and for pension: the objection must under the law, & he has to be satisfied by the fact that such could be the case with officers of Govt. had to be any of these men that he can be serving pension, he must have known that he is to be discharged in its nature temporary, & even if he refused any gratuity for the in the Inam dept. If he be must be satisfied not to have service of the discretion in his choice. There has never been any difficulty in getting men for the Inam dept. If any man is to be discharged from the Inam dept. of the Govt. of India in 1871, the fact is one of which the Govt. of India is to be satisfied. The objection of the Govt. of India is to be satisfied.

5. With reference to that portion of the letter of the 22nd July 1871, No. 2273, which implies that the servants of the establishment of the Inam Commissioner were entertained with the knowledge that the establishment was only temporary and was shortly to be reduced, I am directed to observe that, on the organization of the Department in 1859, this Government approved* the proposal of the Inam Commissioner that service in the Department should count for pension. Having regard, therefore, to the expectations legitimately created by that order, to which no objection was raised for more than ten years and a half, it must be admitted that, though the subordinates of the Department might have anticipated a reduction of the establishment at no distant date, yet they had reasonable grounds for believing that their service in it, to whatever it amounted, would count.

The Government of the grant of gratuities to

-tablishment of the Inam

-charged on reduction of estab-lishment after short periods of service, as reported in the Statement ^{submitted by this Govt} for the 4th ground that, where men should

should not be regarded as giving a title to gratuity on discharge, I am directed to draw the attention of the Government of India to a letter from this Government dated 30th June 1870 N^o 971 and the order thereon dated 29th July 1870 N^o 2286.

2. It will be seen that the order of the 29th July 1870, is couched in general terms— that no restrictions as to length of service are imposed, but on the contrary that it is expressly laid down that "all service in the Imam Commission shall count towards pension in accordance with the operation of the general rules".

3. On the authority thereby conveyed gratuities have been from time to time been granted to employees on the Imam Commission's establishment for various short periods of service, and as several applications are now pending, I am to point out that the order of the 22 July 1871 N^o 2273 is tantamount to a withdrawal of the privilege conceded by the order of the 29th July 1870 N^o 2286, and introduces a condition not imposed by that order or by the general rules—vide Section 56. Civil Pension Code.

4. The former order quotes para 2 of a letter from the Government of India N^o 3187 dated 24th November 1870, which ^{however} makes no mention of the period of

of service giving a title to pension and, if ~~con-~~ ^{considered} with reference to the preceding para, was obviously not intended to impose any restriction not contained in the order of the 29th July 1870, N^o 2286. The fact that, in respect of the grants to which the Government of India looked exception, ~~service~~

~~amounted~~ service exceeded in one extended to 8 years to indicate that service the latter period, but the term "Short Service" is not defined in the communication referred to - and, under the General rules, Service

service exceeding 5 years, even in the case of inferior servants, gives a title to gratuity.

5. With reference to that portion of the letter of the 22nd July 1871 N^o 2273, which implies that the servants of the Establishment of the Nam Commissioners were entertained with the knowledge that the Establishment was only temporary and was shortly to be reduced, I am directed to observe that in the or-towards gratuity)

in accordance with the operation of the general rules, whether followed by immediate employment on a permanent establishment or not."

3. In accordance with the above order gratuities have been sanctioned to servants on the Inam Commissioner's establishment; but on the 22nd July 1871 the Government of India took exception to the grants reported in the statement for the 4th quarter of 1870/71 and ruled that where men have been entertained with the knowledge that the establishment was only temporary and was shortly to be reduced, ~~that~~^{such} service should not be regarded to find out whether the establishment was temporary or permanent at the time of the service.

MC

For the purpose of the above order, the Government of India have ruled that where a man is employed on a temporary establishment, and it is known that the establishment is to be reduced, the service should not be regarded as giving a title to gratuity on discharge.

4. The Inam Commissioner in forwarding the applications states that the applicants must have known that the establishment of Inam Commissioner was temporary or would shortly be reduced but that they understood that the service in it would count towards pension and therefore for gratuity. The Accountant General, referring to Rule 1 Section 22 of the Civil Pension Code expresses his opinion that the claims are inadmissible.

5. On the 25th January last however a gratuity was sanctioned to an employee on the establishment of the Inam

Indian Commissioner whose service amounted to only 4 yrs 6 mos. and 24 days not-of the Government of India
