Proceedings of the Madras Government, Pension Department, 10th June 1872.

Read the following papers:—

From the Collector of the Godavery District, dated 24th November 1871, No. 490.
,, Acting Accountant-General, Madras, dated 14th March 1872, No. 117.

ORDER THEREON, 10th June 1872, No. 466.

From the above papers it appears that Puttapaka Narasimulu, late a pson in the Godavery District, who was thrown out of employ in November 1862 in the revision of talug establishments, served for a total period of thirty years, nine months, and twenty-five days, excluding his service of two years, nine months, and three days on an extra establishment, which cannot be allowed to count.

2. Of the above service only twenty-five years, one month, and twenty-five days can be verified from the records, and on this account his name was submitted to Government in 1865 for the grant of a gratuity of Rupees 24 only, which was sanctioned. He subsequently applied for compassionate allowance in February 1868 agreeably to the notification of the 15th November 1867, as shown by the original petitions which are forthcoming. His application, however, was refused by the District authorities on the ground that the service claimed was not borne out by the records, but on his appearing again before the Collector in August 1871 the present application was submitted.

3. The affidavit of the applicant, corroborated by the evidence adduced, may be accepted in proof of the period of service not borne out by the records. The Rules do not preclude the acceptance of collateral evidence other than the testimony of contemporary employes, and in the present instance there is no reason to suppose that better evidence than that adduced is procurable. Under

Financial Department, dated 11th December 1863, No. 6254, and 9th February 1864, No. 800. the Resolutions of the Government of India marginally noted Puttapaka Narasimulu would have been entitled to a compassionate allowance of Rupees 2-8-0 a month from the 11th December 1863 had he used due diligence in prosecuting his claim; but as the great delay in his case appears to have been due chiefly to remissness on his part and neglect to lay before the District authorities evidence of his service, His Excellency the Governor in Council considers that the arrears which have accrued should be declared forfeited and that the compassionate allowance of Rupees 2-8-0 now sanctioned should commence from the 1st September 1871 (about which date the applicant appears to have taken steps to adduce proof of his claim), subject to an adjustment of the gratuity of Rupees 24 sanctioned in Proceedings of Government, dated 6th September 1865, No. 341, Pension Department.

His application however, was refused by the District Authorities on the ground that the services claimed ~~was~~^{was} not borne out by the records, but on his appearing again before the Collector, in August 1871, the present application was submitted.

The Rules do not preclude the acceptance of collateral evidence other than the testimony of contemporary employees, and in the present instance there is no reason to suppose that better evidence than that adduced is procurable. Under the Resolutions of the Govt of India, originally noted, Puttapaka Narasimulu would have been entitled to a compassionate allowance of Rs 25-0-0 a month, from the 11th December 1863; had he used due diligence in prosecuting his claim, but as the great delay in his case appears to have been due chiefly to remissness on his part and neglect to lay before the district authorities evidence of his service, His Excellency the Governor in Council
