Pension.

Read letter from the Acting Collector of the Godavery District, dated 22nd October 1872, No. 366.

Read also letter from the Deputy Accountant-General, dated 16th November 1872, No. 77.

ORDER THEREON, 9th January 1873, No. 11.

Application is made for the grant of retiring allowance to Chodagam Venkataswamy, late peon in the Chintalapudi Division, Godavery District, whose total service is entered on the register as thirty years, three months, and eleven days. The applicant was thrown out of employment by reduction of establishment on 11th November 1862, and the delay in submitting an application on his behalf is stated to be owing to a petition preferred in 1866 having been mislaid, in consequence of which the matter was lost sight of until the applicant petitioned Government in 1871.

2. The applicant is entitled to a compensation pension of Rupees 2-8-0 per mensem, provided the evidence adduced in support of his statement that his service exceeds thirty years is accepted, and the explanation of the delay in preferring the claim is considered satisfactory.

3. The Collector considers the evidence adduced by the applicant so vague that he does not support the application for pension, but recommends the grant of a gratuity of six months' pay. The applicant states that he was appointed a police peon in the days of Mr. Hooper before the famine of 1832, and his affidavit to this effect is confirmed by the statements of contemporary employés. Mr. Hooper was appointed Acting Collector of Masulipatam on the 17th April 1832, and the applicant's service ended on the 11th November 1862; so that, supposing the commencement of his service to date from the arrival of Mr. Hooper in the district, he might have thirty and a-half years to his credit; but it is more probable that his service barely exceeds thirty years. Assuming the applicant's statement to the effect that he was appointed in the days of Mr. Hooper to be correct, his service cannot fall far short of thirty years, as Mr. Hooper was appointed Judge of Madura on the 11th January 1833. The Government resolve to give C. Venkataswamy the benefit of the doubt, and to grant a compensation pension of Rupees (2-8-0) two and Annas eight per mensem, payable from 24th September 1871.

4. The Government consider that the applicant is partly responsible for the very great delay in the submission of his case. Content with one application to the District authorities four years after the date of his discharge he took no further steps to prosecute his claim, but allowed it to lie dormant for a further period of five years. Arrears will therefore be payable only from the date of the petition to Government.

2 His services amount to ^{4 m 2} 30-3-11, a portion of which could not be verified by records as they are not forthcoming. The originals of Venkataswami's own declaration and the evidence of some contemporary employees are enclosed to prove that his services were continuous.

3 It is to be noticed here that the applicant was thrown out of employ in November 1862.
In 1864 the rule authorizing Compassionate allowances to men of the Applicant's grade and class was passed. In 1866 the applicant applied for the pension, and enquiry was partially held, but from some mistake the application was thrown thrown among papers disposed of,

and the matter was left unnoticed.
In 1871, the applicant sent in a petition to Government asking for his pension, and it was transferred to Collector in November of that year. The applicant resides in the Kistna District. He was sent for in December, and he appeared in April, when the Collector of Kistna was requested to take the evidence of his (applica-cant's) contemporary employees. His reply was received on the 28th ultimo Hence the delay -

nature of the evidence adduced
