Proceedings of the Madras Government, Pension Department, 21st July 1873.

Read the following papers:—

From the Civil Judge of Vizagapatam, dated 15th March 1872, No. 153.

From the Accountant-General, dated 3rd April and 11th June 1873, Nos. 7 and 122.

ORDER THEREON, 21st July 1873, No. 368.

The District Judge of Vizagapatam forwards an application for an invalid pension for one Ravuri Nagabhushanam, lately a Goomastah in the District Munsif's Court at Rayavaram.

2. This man's total service amounts to thirty-two years, eleven months, and two days, but only seven years, five months, and twenty-seven days have been passed on superior service qualifying for gratuity or pension, and he is, therefore, only entitled to a gratuity of Rupees 77.

3. Under Section 64 of the Civil Pension Code he has the option of counting the whole of his service as inferior, but it would then fall short by two years and twenty-eight days of the thirty-five years required by Section 63 (c) for an invalid pension for inferior service.

4. The District Judge thinks the applicant worthy of special consideration, and points out that he was a Goomastah all his service, but was first employed at a time when Goomastahs drew a pay as low as 6 Rupees, while now no Goomastah is paid less than 10 Rupees a-month.

5. It appears that the applicant for twelve years drew pay at the rate of 8 Rupees per mensem. Had, therefore, the scale of the pay then been as at present, he would have received more than 10 Rupees, and these years added to his subsequent service would have entitled him to an invalid pension for a superior service exceeding fifteen years.

6. Under these circumstances, His Excellency resolves to make a special recommendation to the Government of India in behalf of Ravuri Nagabhushanam, and to suggest the grant to him of an invalid pension of Rupees (4) four per mensem.

7. Pending the result of that recommendation, the payment to him, by monthly instalments, of the gratuity of Rupees 77, to which he is entitled under the rules, is sanctioned, with effect from the 1st January 1872, being the date of his retirement.

Sir I have the honor to forward a ^{5.11} Register of Application for Compassionate allowance of Rs 4-0-0 per mensem, or Gratuity at the rate of one month's salary for every year of Service qualifying for pension under the new rule, for Ravuri Nagabhuskanam late 4th Gunasta District Munsifs Court Rayavaram, whose services were duly verified from the Records of that Court.

2 He was thrown out of employ from 1st January last agreeably to order of Govt of India No 2931 dated 15th June 1871 as he is aged 61 years, and he will be entitled to the former only, in case the same indulgence is granted to him as that to which an abolished servant is entitled & under order of Govt of India No 517 dated 22nd January 1868.

3 He appears to be deserving of such as he served as a gunasta ~~for 11 years~~ formerly for 11 years on Rs 6, and for 12 years on Rs 8 ^{per mensem} monthly, whereas subsequently no gunasta was paid less than Rs 10 and by being in employment on such small salaries or ineligible grades, he has also lost his claim for pension.

4 He has faithfully served Govt for a period of about 33 years without any break and discharged his duties to the entire satisfaction of his superiors.

5 He was relieved from duty at Rayavaram on 1st January last and had to report himself at this Court and to attend before the Memo for Orders.

The District Judge of Vizagapatam, applies for an invalid pension for one Rasuri Nagabhashamam, lately a clerk in a District Munsiff's Court.

2. This man's total service amounts to 32 years 11 Months and 2 days, of which only 7 yrs 5 Mths and 27 ds have been passed on superior service qualifying for gratuity or pension. He is therefore only entitled to a gratuity of Rs 1000.

3. Under Section 61 of the Civil Pension Code he has the option of counting the whole of his service service as inferior, but unfortunately for him it would then fall short by 2 years 28 days of the 35 years required by Section 63(c) for an invalid pension for inferior service.

4. There is a somewhat strange distinction drawn in the Pension Code between persons who lose their appointment by its being abolished, or upon reduction of establishment, and those who are invalided. The principle viz "that servants discharged for no fault of their own after completing so long a period of service as thirty years have a claim to liberal treatment" (Vide Secretary of State's Despatch No 455

13-11
16th December 1867, published.
ed at page 201 of the Fort St. George Gazette for 1868) is alike in both cases; yet, while the one can get a pension after 30 years inferior service, the other must have completed five and thirty.

5. The latter is this man's case, and nothing can be done for him unless it be treated as a special one.

6. The District Judge thinks the applicant worthy of special consideration. He points out that he was a Gomasah all his service but was employed at a time when Gomasahs drew

a pay as low as six Rupers which amount
was this man's monthly
salary during 11 years
while for twelve more
he received at the rate of eight Rupers. Now
no Gomasta is paid
less than ten rupers
a month.

7. He also states
that the applicant Narin
"Nagabhusbanam"
"faithfully served
Government for a period of 33 years
without any breaks
and to the entire satis-
-faction of his supe-
-riors"

8. Should Govt
feel disposed to re-
-commend this man
for a pension on
the inferior scale it will

Yes

will be necessary to have his earlier service
verified by the Account Department which hitherto has taken
no notice of it because

and he is therefore only entitled to a gratuity of Rupees 77-

3. Under Section 64 of the Civil Pension Code he has the option of counting the whole of his service as inferior, but it would then fall short by ^{two or three} 2-28 of the 35 years required by Sec: 63(c) for an invalid pension for inferior service.

4. The District Judge thinks the applicant worthy of special consideration and points out that he was a Gomastah all his service but was first employed at a time when Gomastahs drew a pay as low as six Rupees, while now no Gomastah is paid less than ten Rupees a month.

5. It appears that the applicant for twelve years drew pay

pay at the rate of eight rupees per mensem. Had therefore the scale of pay then been as at present he would have received more than ten rupees and these years added to his subsequent service would have entitled him to an invalid pension for a superior service exceeding fifteen years.

6. His Excellency the Governor-in-Council when noticing this fact observes further that, though the retirement of the applicant arose from no fault of his own but was forced upon him by the growing infirmities of age, he is still, under the rules, not entitled to a pension; whereas had his discharge been owing to the abolition of his appointment, he might on the ground that it arose from from a cause beyond his own control, have been granted a compensation pension for a service exceeding thirty years.

7. Under these circumstances His Excellency resolves to make a special recommendation to the Government of India in behalf of Ravuri Nagabhusanam and to suggest the grant to him of an invalid pension of Rupees (4) four per mensem.

8. Pending the result of that recommendation the payment to him by monthly instalments of the gratuity of Rs 77 to which he is entitled under the rules is sanctioned with effect from the 1st January 1872 being the date of his retirement.
