To

The Honourable W. H. Hudson
Chief Secretary to Government
Marine Department
Fort Saint George

Sir

I had the honour in my No 6468 dated letter marginally noted to recommend that Mr. J. Rose, head clerk of the Executive Department, might be exempted from the 55 years' rule, and the Government were pleased to sanction it. I brought at the same time to notice that there was a break in his service in the year 1844, owing to the abolition of the office he then held, and I now beg to submit the following particulars.
Mr. Rose was employed from

from July 1838 to February 1843, or 4 years and 7 months, in the Master Attendants Office, and from 1843 to 1844, or 1 year, in the Mauritius Emigration Office. His appointment in the latter was abolished in 1844, and he was granted by the Madras Government a gratuity of 120 Rupees. He was re-entered in the Master Attendants Office in July 1851, and has continued in it ever since, his service on the 30th ultimo having counted 22 years.

3. By the foregoing it is shown that Mr. Rose's service prior to the break amounts to 5 years and 7 months, and after the break to 22 years. It is also evident that, unless he be allowed to count his service prior to the break, he shall not be entitled to a half pay pension, although the total period of his service is 27 years and 7 months.

4. According to the Pension Rules

Rules an Uncovenanted Servant⁷ does not forfeit his service, if a break is occasioned by abolition of office; but, as in the present instance Mr. Rose's employment in the Mauritius Emigration Office is mixed up with his service under the Madras Government, it becomes a case for the special sanction of Government.

5. It affords me the greatest satisfaction to bear testimony to the high character borne by Mr. Rose, and the efficient manner in which he has discharged his duties, during the long term of his service. Special mention must be made of his trustworthy conduct in the Department of Registrar of Shipping. For the issuing of Registers to Native craft and endorsing Deeds of Sale and of Mortgage, a thorough knowledge of the Native character and undoubted honesty are two of the most essential qualifications requisite

-quisite to avoid complications, and exposing the Government to actions at law. Not a single instance can be brought forward against Mr. Rose where he was found at fault in this Department.

6. I beg under the foregoing circumstances to submit the case of this deserving Public Servant to the favourable consideration of Government, and strongly to recommend that he may be allowed to count his service prior to the break - a service which has already been admitted by Government in granting him a gratuity, which he is now fully prepared to refund - so that he may be entitled, after having so long and faithfully served the Government, to retire on a half pay pension.

7. By the Notification of Government, Pension Department dated 28th October 1869, Mr. Rose should have refunded his gratuity.

3 months after that date. This was unfortunately not done, the order having been through some unaccountable means lost sight of, and as the penalty incurred thereby would fall with extreme severity on an old servant of Government of excellent character, who had been re-entertained in the service 19 years previous to the date of the notification in question, I beg earnestly to appeal on his behalf in view to his case being dealt with as a special one, and his being allowed now to refund his gratuity.

I have the honour to be

Your most obedient Servant of the office of Accountant General Order thereon 20th Dec 1873 No. 492

Ordered that the foregoing Report from the Offg. Deputy Accountant
General be communicated to the Master Attendant.

It has been observed that even if the break were overlooked and permission to refund the gratuity granted, Mr. Rose would not be eligible to a half pay superannuation pension until he completed a service of 25 years commencing from 1st July 1851 - as the service prior to the break was either inferior or non-qualifying.

Mr. Rose's claims to special consideration cannot be decided until he has finally retired from the service.
