Proceedings of the Madras Government, Pension Department, 21st April 1874.

Read the following letter from D. BARBOUR, Esq., Under Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Fort St. George, dated Fort William, 19th March 1874, No. 1764 :—

In acknowledging the receipt of the endorsement of the Acting Under Secretary to the Government of Fort St. George, No. 2, dated 28th January 1874, and its enclosures, I am directed to communicate the following remarks on the application made in your letter, No. 604, dated 1st December 1873, for an increase to the pension of Sheik Mohideen, formerly a Jemadar on the establishment of the Collector of South Canara.

2. The recommendation in favour of Sheik Mohideen, which is for the grant of a full-pay pension, is based on the decisions in the cases of Sheik Ismail and Ahmed Ally. The case of Sheik Ismail was quoted by the Government of Fort St. George when in March 1867 they applied for confirmation of the sanction given by them to the grant, as a special case, of a pension to Sheik Mohideen in lieu of the gratuity to which he was entitled under rule, and the present application for the grant of a full-pay pension would, therefore, appear to be founded chiefly on the recent decision in the case of Ahmed Ally.

3. This decision does not, however, very strongly support the recommendation in behalf of Sheik Mohideen. When Ahmed Ally retired from the service he was all but entitled to a half-pay pension. The only defect in his title was of a purely technical character, viz., that he had not on re-employment, after having been discharged on abolition of appointment, refunded a gratuity of a small amount which he had received as compensation for loss of office. The ordinary pension (Rupees 17-8-0) of half his pay was not considered a sufficient recompense for meritorious services rendered during critical times, and that pension was accordingly increased, not to the full amount of his pay (Rupees 35), but to Rupees 25 a-month. Sheik Mohideen, on the contrary, was entitled under rule only to a gratuity of six months' pay, and the pension granted to him, equal to one-half of his pay, ought to be regarded as a liberal recognition of his special services, which do not appear to have been more valuable than those of Ahmed Ally.

4. The papers received with the endorsement under acknowledgment are herewith returned.
