RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF INSPECTORS.

1. Inspectors should attend daily with one or two Goomastahs on the beats of the latter between 7 and 11 A.M., and should personally see that they warn the registered prostitutes of their respective divisions, and enter in a diary, to be kept by him, the daily working of each of the Goomastahs.

2. Inspectors should see that the other Goomastahs are on their beats, and ascertain and enter in the diary the places visited, and the registered females warned by each of them.

3. Inspectors are also to call upon their Goomastahs to trace out the old registered females, who have for some time failed to attend for weekly examinations, and enter in the diary the result of their daily inquiries, and should occasionally ascertain and record the correctness or otherwise of the Goomastahs' statements.

4. Inspectors should bring to the notice of the Health Officer any remissness on the part of the Goomastahs, either in conducting their duties, or carrying out their orders.

5. Inspectors should lay before the Health Officer once a week the diary of their work for the past week.

6. Inspectors should inspect the brothels once a month, and report to the Health Officer on their cleanlines or otherwise.

7. Inspectors should bring to the notice of the Health Officer all registered prostitutes, who persistently refuse to attend the Health Office for examination, and take his orders thereon.

8. Inspectors should prosecute in the Police Court the registered and non-registered prostitutes and others.

9. Inspectors should keep an absent and present book, in which the names of the Goomastahs who have failed to attend, or are not to be found on their beats, should be entered.

10. Inspectors should divide their districts into as many divisions as there are Goomastahs under them, and allot one to each of them.

H. STANBROUGH,
Health Officer.

MADRAS,

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF GOOMASTAHS.

1. Goomastahs should be on their beats from 7 to 11 A.M. daily and warn all registered females in their respective divisions, and should trace out all registered females who have for some time failed to appear at the Health Office for examination, and should report the result daily to the Inspector for entry in the diary kept by him.

2. Goomastahs should inquire into all complaints preferred against unregistered females carrying on common prostitution and report the result to the Inspector.

3. If sufficient evidence be forthcoming against any unregistered woman carrying on common prostitution either from the inquiry of the Goomastah or Inspector, the woman should be directed to appear before the Health Officer, or, if willing to accompany them, be brought before the Health Officer for further inquiry.

4. Goomastahs should warn, and if possible, bring any registered woman to the nearest office for examination when she has failed to appear in the district office to which she belongs.

5. Goomastahs should have all summonses taken against prostitutes served on them, and assist the Inspector in their prosecutions.

6. Goomastahs should, after a woman has been convicted, attend Her Majesty's Penitentiary on the day of her release, and bring her to the Health Office on the day for examination.

7. Goomastahs who fail to attend or to be on their beats will be marked absent by the Inspector.

8. Goomastahs should obey all orders of their Inspectors.

9. The above rules are applicable to all Goomastahs.

From the Dy Accountt General ——— (do — 26th March & 30 April 1874 Nos 662, 667 to 675 & 45)

Note

1. This is the first instance in which any of the Health officers' Establishment have become qualified for retiring allowances.

2. Their Service seems to be qualifying for

(1st) It is service under Government.

(2d) It is permanent.

(3) It is paid from General Revenues.

It is true that the Municipality and Port Funds both contribute towards the expense but the Establishment was originally started in 1868 solely from Imperial funds & the marginally given section[x] of the Code seems to be intended for just such cases.

3. It only remains to determine whether service as an Inspector and as a Gumastah is superior or inferior. Both are paid over ten Rupees and it is presumed that their duties are such as to require intelligent & respectable men.

4. It is therefore proposed to allow their pensions on the superior scale as stated in the following Order.
