Application is made for the grant of a full compensation pension to Mr. Daniel L'Heur, lately a First-class Auditor in the Pay Examiner's Office, for his qualifying superior service of twenty-five years and twenty-nine days; but, as his conduct is unfavourably reported on, His Excellency the

To The Controller of Military Accounts.
Sir,

I have the honor, with reference to the Order of Government, Pension Department of the 18th ultimo, N^o 530, and your despatch of yesterday N^o 1667, to state, that Mr. Le Flew has for some years been very negligent in the performance of his duties as an Auditor, and I have had frequently to deal with the moral accompaniments of such negligence, a result to be prevented and questionably important to correct.

The Medical authorities however did not concur in that view and his transfer was granted to him.

My experience of him dates from March 1868, when I first took charge of this Office he appeared to me intelligent and equal to his duties although it was obvious obvious that he frequently labored under some temporary disability regarding the nature of which I had little doubt there was, however no tangible evidence of intemperate habits. Slightly his nervous system became so shaken and his general health appeared to be so impaired that at times his full energies were not available and he was mentally inefficient.

On being informed by the Acting Surgeon of the 3rd District that he suspected that the chief cause of his present symptoms was "drinking," in accordance with his suggestion, requested him to enter the General Hospital as the condition on which alone I would advance salary during his absence from duty, and on his shortly thereafter returning to his work I intimated to him that my requirement was a permanent one.
