up to 31st December 1863. The Collector of that District was requested on the 13th December 1872 to furnish a List of the applicant's Service for the period he was employed at Chumampet Salt Station prior to its transfer to this District and two reminders were sent one on the 27th February and the other on the 11th June last. The list was at last furnished by that officer on the 16th July, but this had to be returned to him on the 29th Idem for further information as the List was incomplete. In the accompanying service book which was received from the Collector of Chingleput only on the 2nd October last, he remarks that the records prior to 1st July 1847 and subsequent to 30 June 1849 as well as those subsequent to 30 June 1860 are not forthcoming, but the service for the latter period was made out from the accompanying translation of service list received from the Salt Superintendent at Markanum and verified from the records of this office.

The applicant who was required to attend this office appeared on the 3rd Instant and stated that he could not account for the period of service in doubt nor was he able to prove the service by the testimony of Contemporary servants. The affidavit of the applicant as required in clause 4, Section 71 was not taken in consequence of his inability to describe the period of service in doubt. Hence the period of service in Churnam-pet station amounting to 12-11-30 was excluded from the period reckoned as service.

The service book which was sent on the 7th Instant to the salt charge Deputy Collector for the entries being attested by him as the immediate Head of the office, only reached me on the 20th Instant.
