Treasury Dy. collector's office
Bangalore 21st July 1875.

No. 830.

From,

The Ag. Deputy collector
In charge of the Treasury
Bangalore

To,

The collector of Bangalore

Sir,

I have the honor to submit the explanation called for in your letter of the 12th instant No. 2318.

2. Originally the salary of the Head Accountant was Rs 100, and there was no Head clerk. On 1st August 1858 the name of this office was changed to Head clerk; the duties of the office however, having remained unchanged, Londa-ram Pillai held this appointment both previous and subsequent to the change of the designation of the office and continued to do so until the revision of Establishment according to the Honorable Honorable Mr. Pelly's scheme which came into force on 1st July 1860.

3. The Honorable Mr. Pelly's scheme allowed two distinct offices, one as English Head Clerk on Rs 100 and the other as English Head Accountant on Rs 70; the duties assigned to Head Clerk were those of general superintendence of the English correspondence department and the duties assigned to the Head Accountant were precisely those which previously appertained to that office as English Head Accountant. This being the case, Soondaram Pillai continued to do the duties of this latter office holding, however, the appointment of Head Clerk.

4. This arrangement was found inconvenient in its operation as well as opposed to the rules, and, therefore, Mr. Leadell, the then Collector, on the 1st November 1863, put Soondaram Pillai in his proper place of Head Accountant and appointed to the office of Head Clerk one Mr. Melson who till then held the post of Head Accountant but was doing other duties. Mr. Leadell at the same time took into his own office Mr. Melson, who was till then in the Treasury Dy collector's. This re...

fixed in the District Gazette of the 7th November 1863, in which it is distinctly stated, that Soondaram Pillai reverted "to his proper appointment of Head Accountant." I send a copy to be returned Copy of the Gazette herewith, for your inspection.

5. You will thus observe, that the arrangement by which Soondaram Pillai's salary became reduced was made simply to adjust the establishment to the sanctioned scale and not in order to degrade him.

I have &c
