Proceedings of the Acting Magistrate dated 17th November 1870.

On the 12th November it was brought to the notice of the Ag. Magistrate that a sum of 20 Rs. which had been collected by the Police on a distress warrant issued by the Magistrate, had been produced in January 1870, and had been retained by P. G. Coelho, the magisterial clerk, without being credited in the accounts.
The matter was brought to notice by the complainant in the case who had been awarded compensation, having appeared and stated that the compensation had never been paid to him.

In the meantime P. G. Coelho had been promoted to the office of Storekeeper.
On being questioned as to what had become of the money he acknowledged having received it, and that it was in his possession.

On being called on for an explanation P. G. Coelho acknowledges having received the money in January when on circuit at Bellary, and states that with the permission of the Ag. Magistrate, Mr.
Thomas, he kept the amount in deposit in a Daftar of disposed of cases,

pending the disbursement of a portion of it to the complainant as compensation.

That as the party did not appear to claim the amount he forgot all about it, and the amount remained unnoted until July 1870 when he was appointed Storekeeper. On delivering over charge of the Magisterial papers in July 1870, he found the amount in the Duftar, and thinking it preferable to produce it before the Magistrate on the appearance of the party he sealed it up in a bag and kept it in the Store-room.

On the first place the Ag. Magistrate cannot credit Coelho's statement that he was allowed to keep the money in deposit in a Duftar. He was ^{very} probably told to have the money placed in deposit, but he knew very well the rules on this point, & what the order meant, namely, that the money was to be placed in deposit in the Treasury. The Ag. Magistrate does not believe that P.G. Coelho took the money, or that he retained it, with any dishonest intention. He very probably forgot all about it. When however, he discovered in July, that the money was still in his charge, he

he should have at once brought the fact to the notice of the Ag. Magistrate. The Ag. Magistrate cannot accept his explanation as to his reasons for taking it with him to the Store Department. He does not appear to have told the Clerk who succeeded him as Magisterial clerk anything about it, and as stated above the fact would never have been brought to notice, was it not that the complainant applied for the compensation. In concealing his original fault and subsequent forgetfulness from the Ag. Magistrate, and in attempting, or therefore to deceive him, P.G. Coelho has been greatly to blame. His offence is not one that can be passed over with a reprimand or a fine. Were it not that he is a man of long service, and has during the 11 years the Ag. Magistrate has known him, borne a good character & conducted his duties satisfactorily, the Ag. Magistrate would have removed him from his appointment. Taking into consideration his previous service & character, the fact that an order of suspension for a limited period will be as great a punishment punishment to a man in Coelho's position as an order of dismissal would be to many others, the Ag. Magistrate resolves to suspend P. Coelho from his appointment for one month from the 12th February.
