ORDER THEREON, 15th November 1876, No. 697.

The Government will not entertain this application for gratuity, which has been presented fifteen years after the applicant was thrown out of employment. He was then sixty years of age. There is no proof that he exerted himself to obtain service, and as he is now seventy-six years of age some time must have elapsed since he was fit for active work.

1. Peshkars or γ Rs were, commonly called Karkhums.
2. The posts of Peshkars and Karkhums were permanent appointments and paid from General Revenue.
3. No gratuity was paid.
4. The records of this office do not support Petri's statement that he applied to every Collector in the Dti to provide him with a munis post either in the Huzur or Sub Establishments, tho' it appears from information obtained from old officials that the statement in question is not altogether without foundation.
