Gratuity.

Read the following letter from R. W. LODWICK, Esq., Accountant-General, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Fort St. George, 18th November 1876, No. 537:—

Audit Department.

I have the honor to submit that one T. Nadamoony Moodelly, an Attender in my office, having fallen sick, obtained leave of absence for a few days, and, while so absent, applied, on the 13th instant, for gratuity on the score of inability to work any longer, he being nearly sixty-six years of age. He unfortunately died on the next day, but his application for gratuity was not presented to me till the 16th idem, owing, it is stated by his nephew, to the carelessness of his people. Under these circumstances I request to be informed, with reference to the latter part of Rule 2, Section 88, of the Civil Pension Code, whether the application for gratuity can be admitted. A Cashier, in my office has certified in writing that the deceased signed the application in his presence.

ORDER THEREON, 1st December 1876, No. 747.

Under the latter part of Rule 2, Section 88, of the Civil Pension Code, it appears that T. Nadamoony Moodelly, late Attender in the Accountant-General's Office, since deceased, was not entitled to any retiring allowance. No application for gratuity can be admitted on his behalf.
