look to place in his presence & of his own proceedings in the matter, it is perfectly clear that the sub Magistrate acted uprightly and honestly & did his duty to the best of his knowledge. It is true that he ought to have sent up all the proceedings in his diary and should have sent up all the depositions with the records to the Sessions Court. I found that in a case committed by a Magistrate in England and tried by a Jury at Dorset only the last depositions were sent up although several had been taken at different times. The comments made by the Judge on the omission do not seem to imply that it was the self evident duty of the Magistrate to send up the depositions. I fear that in my previous letter I commented too severely on the sub Magistrate's ignorance of his duty. On reconsideration it appears to me that the points on which he erred were of a somewhat difficult construction & very liable to be misunderstood by a Native Magistrate.

In conclusion I wish to state that the opinion expressed by Captain Sumpertz and endorsed by you as to the ability and integrity of the sub Magistrate of Santuram is fully confirmed by my own experience.

Extract from a letter from the Magistrate of Sinnerully to the As. Sessions Judge of Sinnerully dated 5 May 1863 No 308.

Under the foregoing explanation and as the sub Magistrate is a man of high respectability, I consider that the information given to you by the Police cannot be trusted the more especially as in a letter received from the Superintendent of Police bearing the date the 29th ultimo of which a copy is enclosed for your information, no mention whatever is made of any charge against the sub Magistrate. Lieutenant Portnow says that he has issued the necessary instructions to the Police & that he has called up on him to explain there as one of his not affording to the sub Magistrate sooner the information required by him.

Extract from a letter from the Magistrate of Sinnerully to the As. Sessions Judge of Sinnerully dated 21 September 1863 No 577.

Captain Sumpertz's letter is perfectly satisfactory and the testimony he bears to the good character of the sub Magistrate of Santuram is fully confirmed by my personal knowledge of this officer for more than 7 years.
