THE Government observe that the petitioner maintained a good character during the whole period of his service of fourteen years, and that his claims to re-employment appear to have deserved more attention than they would seem to have received at the hands of the several officers under whose notice in succession they were brought. The District Engineer, Nellore, will now be instructed to take measures for verifying the petitioner's service, and he will then submit an application for a gratuity according to the Uncovenanted Civil Service Rules. The petitioner being now about 50 years of age his re-employment would probably not be desirable.

Sir

I have the honor to reforward the papers received with your letter No 71 dated the 9th August 1876.

In reply to Para 1 of your letter Nadamoney Modaliar's history of Service cannot be fully verified from Official records now in existence, but the accompanying Service register, goes to shew that it is substantially correct. The records of the old road department in the Northern Division appear to have been destroyed and there is no voucher except the service Register to prove that Nadamunny Modali was employed in February 1849.

There are no records to prove that Nadamooney Mudali was continuously employed during the periods referred to in Para 2 of your letter; but there are records in the Northern Division Office appertaining to the period between October 1856 and April 1858, which are vouched to be in Nadamoney's hand writing.

It appears from the accompanying copies of letters from the Range Officer and Zillah Surgeon that Nadamooney was on sick leave from the 14th March 1863 and this seems to account for the reduced amount of pay drawn by him from March to June 1863.

There are no breaks of Service shown for Gratuity, and there is no other record, which gives any information on the subject.

The petitioners statement that he drew pay from the 25th to 31st January 1856 cannot be verified or contradicted.

The petitioner appears to have lost his appointment by the order of Government for the reorganization of the Department in 1863.

The Gratuity application and the Service register, have been completed as directed in Para 7 of your letter under reply.
