FROM

C. G. MASTER, Esq.,

Acting Chief Secretary to the Government of Fort St. George,

TO

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

I am directed to bring to the notice of the Government of India the case of persons drawing pensions under the rules of the Police Superannuation Fund in this Presidency, who may be re-employed in the Public Service.

2. In 1869 this Government directed that such pensioners when subsequently employed as peons in Public Offices should be permitted to draw their pensions in addition to the pay of their new posts.

This Order was passed on the representation of the Accountant-General, who stated that he was not aware of any rule on the subject, but that, in his opinion, such pensioners might well be placed on the same footing as Military pensioners of a similar class, and more particularly so as they had paid for the pensions they enjoy.

3. Under the spirit of this Order one Thandalam or Triplicane Rungiah Naidoo, who, when a Darogah in the Madras Town Police, had been invalided in 1857 on a pension of Rupees (7) seven per mensem, was allowed to retain that pension when employed in 1868 at first as a Gumasta and subsequently as Inspector under the Health Officer in Madras.

4. The later orders of the Government of India now embodied in Section 97, Civil Pension Code, which require that an officer who continues to draw his pension on re-employment must not do so if the sum total would exceed the pay of the appointment he held when pensioned, appear to have been overlooked or held to be inapplicable, and T. Rungiah Naidoo continued to draw both pay and pension until superannuated on the 6th November 1876. The Account Department then ruled that he was not entitled to any retiring allowance for this further service of eight years, one month, and six days, either alone or taken in connection with his Police service; but they did not require a refund of the pension or so much of it as under the rules applicable to all but certain classes of Military and Naval pensioners should not have been drawn when his pay and pension exceeded the salary on which he was invalided from the Police.

5. In a recent case where a Constable in receipt of an invalid pension irregularly continued to draw it on re-employment, though the pay of his new appointment exceeded that of the appointment on which he was pensioned, this Government directed the excess payment to be refunded. The same course should be followed in the present instance, and a pension might then apparently be granted for the applicant's new and old service combined; but, in consideration of the fact that he continued to draw his pension in consequence of the Order of Government referred to in paragraph 2 supra, I am to request that the refund may not be enforced.

6. Rungiah Naidoo's Police service amounted to twenty-one years, six months, and four days, and his subsequent service to eight years, one month, and six days; and

I am to recommend that he may either be granted for this combined service of twenty-nine years, seven months, and ten days an increased pension of Rupees 12-2-1, being half his average emoluments during the last five years of his employment in the Health Department, or else receive a gratuity for the later service alone.

7. His Grace the Governor in Council would further suggest that the retention on re-employment of a pension or gratuity drawn under the rules of the Police Superannuation Fund in this Presidency be always permitted. Apart from the fact that men who come under these rules have contributed to their retiring allowance, there is, I am to state, much in the conditions of Police service which renders a concession similar to that allowed to certain class of Military pensioners equitable in the case of Policemen pensioned either under the old or new rules.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

FORT ST. GEORGE,
23rd November 1878.

Acting Chief Secretary.

From L. C. PROBYN, Esq., Accountant-General, to the Acting Chief Secretary to Government, dated Fort St. George, 5th August 1878, No. 5105.

Audit Department.

With reference to the accompanying application for an increase to the pension already drawn as Police Superannuation by Thandalam Rungiah, late Inspector in the Health Office, Madras, I have the honor to offer the following remarks.

2. Under Rule 7 at the end of Chapter XX of the Civil Pension Code, I do not consider that the man can be permitted to count his new service for a separate pension or gratuity.

3. Neither is there any rule under which any increased retiring allowance can be given for the combined service; for under Section 97 of the Code, to enable a re-employed officer once pensioned to reckon previous service, he must not have drawn pension during his later service.

4. Although the applicant was under G.O., dated 5th January 1869, No. 8, Judicial, allowed, during his service as health officer, to retain his Police superannuation pension in the absence of any rules regarding such an arrangement in the Pension Code, I do not think it should be treated in respect to future service differently from any other pension.

5. I beg, however, that the present opportunity may be taken of reporting, for the information of Government of India, the Order last referred to in view to its inclusion in the Pension Code.

From Surgeon-General G. SMITH, M.D., Indian Medical Department, to the Acting Chief Secretary to Government (through the Accountant-General), dated Fort St. George, 25th March 1878, No. 181.

I have the honor to forward, for submission to His Grace the Governor in Council, the accompanying petition from T. Rungiah Naidu, late an Inspector of the Health Officer's establishment, which he claims to have forwarded to Government under the provisions of G.O., No. 479, of 3rd September 1877, Pension Department.

2. The petitioner is in the receipt of a pension of Rupees 7 for twenty-one years' service rendered to the Police as a Darogah, and was dismissed from the Health Officer's establishment after a service of eight years for physical incapacity without any benefit for the latter service.

3. The petitioner prays that the two periods of service may be combined, amounting to an aggregate of twenty-nine years, and that a half pension may be granted him in lieu of the one-third pension which accrues to him as the reward of his twenty-one years' service in the Police Force.

4. He also prays that a gratuity may be accorded to him for the period of eight years served on the Health Officer's establishment. This latter request I apprehend is intended to apply only in the event of the higher pension not being granted.

5. The Accountant-General negatived the claim as opposed to rule; but, as the petitioner is not satisfied with this decision, he has elected the privilege of appeal to Government under the provisions of the Government Order noted in paragraph 1. I forward the correspondence for the orders of His Grace in Council.

ENCLOSURE No. 1.

From H. STANBROUGH, Esq., Health Officer, to the Deputy Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, Presidency and Northern District, Madras, dated Madras, 15th March 1878, No. 127.

In returning your docket, No. 2343, dated 23rd March 1877, I have the honor of forwarding the second petition from T. Rungiah Naidu, late an Inspector in the Health Department. His former petition craving an increase to his present pension has been disallowed by the Accountant-General.

In accordance with G.O., No. 479, dated 3rd September 1877, I now forward this petition for the orders of Government, so that Government may be pleased to grant him a gratuity as was done in the cases of Civil and Military pensioners who have been thrown out in the reduction of 1873.

Rungiah Naidu has rendered good service to the department.

To

DR. H. STANBROUGH, Health Officer, Madras.

The humble petition of T. RUNGIAH NAIDU, late Inspector of the Health Office, Town of Madras.

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHOWETH,—That your humble petitioner was under your honor's service for over eight years as an Inspector upon Rupees 25 per mensem, having been recommended by Colonel Drever, the Commissioner of Police, after proved knowledge of his abilities to discharge any duties that may be entrusted to him. Now, to your petitioner's misfortune, he was discharged from his service on account of his old age and physical debility.

Your petitioner begs to submit that he has a large family to protect, and at this season of scarcity, being as he is unemployed, he suffers very much because of his inability to maintain them all, and therefore he craves your honor

G.O., No. 479 of 3rd September 1877.
G.O., No. 517 of 25th " "

to transmit this petition to Government in accordance with Government Orders as per margin and obtain sanction to one of the two following requests:—

- (1.) To add his present services of eight years together with his former services of twenty-one years acquired in the Police Department as a Darogah, for which he now draws 7 Rupees pension, and to grant him a half pension by reckoning his both services (vide Notification of Fort St. George Gazette, No. 2789, of 14th December 1875).

- (2.) To grant him a donation as that done in the cases of pensioned persons named in the margin who were employed as Gumastas, Inspectors, and Apothecaries under your honor, and they were favored with donations after they were thrown out on reduction of establishment in 1873.

Police Duffadar Mannajee Rau.
Sepoy Mahomed Imam.
Mr. Mecai and other Apothecaries.

For this act of kindness and charity your petitioner shall ever pray the Omnipotent for your longevity and prosperity.

ENCLOSURE No. 2.

From H. STANBROUGH, Esq., Health Officer, to the Deputy Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, Presidency and Northern District, dated Madras, 12th February 1877, No. 189.

I have the honor of acknowledging your docket, No. 854, dated 31st ultimo, giving cover to docket, No. 10,287, dated 25th idem, from the Accountant-General to the Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, with reference to increasing the present pension received by T. Rungiah Naidu, late Inspector, Health Department, on account of eight years' service in the department.

Rule 6, Chapter 20, of the Civil Pension Code referred to does not bear on the subject; but I find the following in paragraph 7, Chapter XX, page 55, of the Civil Pension Code, Third Edition:—"7. Except as provided in Rules 1, 2, and 3, an officer who, having been discharged with a pension or gratuity, is subsequently re-employed may, under no circumstances, count his new service for a separate pension or gratuity. If pension or gratuity is admissible at all in respect to such new service, it is admissible only for the new service combined with the old, the whole being counted as one service."

The latter part of this Order is what I have requested may be done, and therefore solicit that, if the Accountant-General still differs in opinion, the Surgeon-General may be pleased to apply to Government for sanction.

No. 1699.

I am of the same opinion as the Accountant-General, and consider that Rungiah Naidu is barred from any additional pension for his service in the Health Department by regulations.

The Health Officer would seem to have overlooked that in quoting Rule 6 in Chapter XX, this Office had reference to the second edition of the Pension Code.

Sir

I am directed to bring to the notice of the Govt of India the case of persons drawing pensions under the rules of the Police Superannuation Fund in this Presidency who may be reemployed in the Public Service.

Judg Pres: 5th January 1869, No 8.3

2 In 1869 this Govt directed that such pensioners who subsequently employed as persons in Public offices should be permitted to draw their pensions in addition to the pay of their new posts.

This order was passed on the representation of the Accountant General who stated that he was not aware of any rule on the subject but that in his opinion such pensioners might well be placed on the same footing as military pensioners of a similar class and more particularly so as they had paid for the pensions they enjoy.

No 546

one Thandalam or Triplicane Rangiah
Naidoo who when a Darogah in the Madras
Town Police had been invalided in 1857
on pension of Rs (7) seven per mensem was allowed to retain that pension when employed in 1868 at first as a Jemadar and subsequently as Inspector under the Health Officer in Madras.

4. The later orders of the Govt. of India now embodied in § 97. C. P.
Code, which require that an officer who continues to draw his pension on re-employment must not do so if the sum total would exceed the pay of the appointment he held when pensioned, appear to have been overlooked or held
to be inapplicable & T. Rangiah-Naidoo continued to draw both pay and pension until superannuated on the 6th Novr 1876. The Account Dept.
then ruled that he was not entitled to any retiring allowance for this further service of 8-1-6 ^{years but to} either alone or taken in connection with his Police Service, but they did not require refund of the pension or so much of it as under the rules applicable to all but certain classes of 2821

of military and Naval pensioners, should not have been drawn when his pay & pension exceeded the salary which he was invalided from the Police.

5. In a recent case where a constable
in receipt of an invalid pension irregularly
continued to draw it on reemployment though the pay of his new appointment exceeded that of the appointment on which he was pensioned, this Government directed the excess payment to be refunded. The same course should be followed in the present instance and a pension might then apparently be granted for the applicant's
new and old service combined; but in consideration of the fact that he continued to draw his pension in consequence of the order of Government referred to in para 2
supra, I am to request that the refund
may not be enforced.

6. Rangiah Naidoo's Police Service amounted to 21 years 6 months and 14 days and his subsequent service to ^{years but to} 3-1-6
and I am to recommend that he may either be granted for this combined service of ^{years but to} 24-7-10 an increased pension of Rs 12--2-3, being half his average emoluments during the last

last five years of his employment in the Health Dept., & also receive a gratuity
for the later service alone.

7. His Grace the Governor in Council would further suggest that the retention or reemployment of a pension or gratuity drawn under the rules of the Police Superannuation Fund in the Presidency be always permitted. Apart from the fact that men who come under these rules
have contributed to their retiring allowance there is some to state much in the conditions of Police Service which renders a concession similar to that allowed to certain class of military pensioners equitable in the case of Police men pensioned either under the old or new rules.
