Sir,

With reference to your letter No. $\frac{A.D.R.}{42}$ of 6th August 1878, I have the honor to submit the accompanying papers from which it will be seen that Sambayya, also called Samboodoo, was first entertained in the Provincial Court of Northern Circars from 29th May 1829 to 15th September 1843 (Vide Certificate given him & marked A.). He was next taken into the establishment of the Masulipatam Special Commissioner's Court from the next day after 15th September 1843, that is, 16th September and his services ceased on 31st March 1845 with the abolition of that court to give place to the Civil Court established on the 1st April 1845 (Vide certificate given him & marked B.)

From the document G. letter from the District Judge, Kistna, it is clear that only diaries were looked into and this man's appointment was not to be found except that he was made Daffedar in the late Civil Court, Masulipatam.

Documents D. E. F. depositions taken by the District Judge from the applicant himself & two of his fellow workmen in the Provincial and Civil Courts, go to show that Sambayya was employed in those two Courts continuously. Though his appointment as Daloyet in the Civil Court is not forthcoming from the diaries, yet his continuous service in that was borne out by the evidence of his contemporaneous fellow workers. Diaries are not always faithful in recording the events of the day: entrusted to a ministerial servant, their preparation is not well supervised.

Certificate H. given him on 18th January 1863 by Mr. C. B. Pelly, Civil Judge, shows that the applicant had been Head Messenger of the Court. Documents A & B show continuous service without a day's break and the Civil Court was established in lieu of the Special Commissioner's Court on the next day after its abolition and this servant who had continuously held appointment in the two Courts, Provincial and Special Commissioner's Courts for 16 years as Daloyet would not be without appointment in the Civil Court as Daloyet at least: from this post he rose to be Daffedar in that Court which was borne evidence to by the report of the Record Keeper of the District Court, Kistna (Vide doct. C. This Servant's appointment in continuation of his services connected with the Special Commissioner's Court is also supported by the probabilities of the case.

I beg to submit that all this affords satisfactory evidence to the continuous employment of M. Sambayya since May 1829 down to his service in the late Small Cause Court at Masulipatam.
