Decision passed by the Ag Collector of Madura in Appeal Case No. 24 of 1873.

Read petition presented by Muttusami Aiyar, Gumastah in the Nellacotta Dy Tahsildar's Office appealing against the order of the Ag Sub Collector removing him from his office.

Appellant was arrested for debt and was dismissed in conse=quence. I find on enquiry that the debt in question has been entirely settled and that appellant is not insolvent. I think he has had a sufficient warning & should be restored to his office from 1st April next. Total dismissal would be very severe.

Translation of Takeed No 30 dated Dindigal 21st February 1873 from the acting Sub Collector of Madura to the Deputy Tahsildar of Nilacottah.

Read your Arzi No 14c. of the 14th Instt in reply to this office endorsement on the petition sent by you stating that you have granted 5 days leave to your office Head Goomastah Muthusamy Iyen for going to Madura and returning therefrom in pursuance of a warrant from the Court of Small Causes.

From the above it appears that Muthusamy Ayen borrowed Rs 200 from one Arunachalum Chetty of Madura for his son's marriage, that a suit having been brought against him for the recovery of the same and Rupees 155 remaining unpaid a warrant was issued against him that he therefore went to Madura and requested the Court to proceed against his house at Madura for the amount of the warrant, that an

an order was accordingly issued and the matter was thus disposed of Those whose position renders them liable to arrest by warrant are unfit for public service, but if the debt for which a public servant is arrested is hereditary or caused by circumstances over which he has no control and not the result of his own action then no blame attaches to him. In the present case the debt which Muthusamy Iyan has incurred is not of such a nature. It is a debt indiscreetly incurred for the marriage of his son to spend more than what his means would allow him exceeding his pay for 13 months. He is wholly responsible for it.

While the Taluq Gumastahs throw them into debt and render themselves liable to arrest by warrant, it is very necessary that an example should be set as a warning to others. I have therefore dismissed Muthusamy Ayan from the date of his proceeding to Madura under arrest by the warrant. I however regret the necessity that makes me resort to the above extreme measure as Muthusamy Ayan seems to have acted uprightly hitherto.

As suspension from office is no suitable punishment for running in debt I have not suspended Muthusamy Ayan. Although it may be inferred that his removal from office is a punishment for his indebtedness, still I have not dismissed him on that principle. An officer while in debt cannot be as useful as he would be when free from it. I have therefore deemed it advisable to remove him from office and to pass the above order. Orders will be subsequently issued on the appointment of a substitute
