Sir,

I have the honor to submit for your favorable Consideration the Enclosed original petition received from one Munja Badgha Cooch Maistry employed by this Department. Both from enquiry and personal knowledge I find that the statements made by him are true.
I think the man having so long and faithfully served in the Department, deserves some substantial recognition from the hands of Government.

* 27th March 1865. No 840.

Service paid from Estimates has at no time been treated as conveying claim to Pension though occasionally a special Pension has been recommended as in the case referred to in the Chief Engineers Memo. as far back as 1865
it was distinctly stated in G. O. P. W. S. that the term "Maistry" is at present only used in cases of men temporarily employed as foremen.

over gangs of Bricklayers Carpenters Laborers &c.

& in 1871 the Govt of India stated that such Maistries

"are clearly no more than foremen of gangs & should not be admitted to Pension"

In P.W.D. G.O. dated 14th Jan 1876 No 70 the Govt considered that these Maistries in common with other members of the Imperial petty establishment are "entitled to Pension" & a reference was made to the Govt of India.

On their asking for a full explanation it was stated that no change in existing rules is desired

In the present case the Applicant has no special claim. He was a cooly Maistry employed more or less continuously but still temporarily & is now too old to work.

It is therefore impossible to treat his case as exceptional. His claim if admitted being in no way better than that of his fellows their claims also must be entertained. This will lead to applications from all parts of the country from men similarly superannuated & to very numerous applications for compensation retiring allowances from members of the petty establishment thrown out of employ by the stoppage of works throughout the country.

It seems necessary therefore to decide how far Govt are now prepared to recommend members
being admitted to the benefits of the Civil Pension Code.
