In the entire absence of every other means of verification, the affidavit of the applicant should be taken

When the applicant, applied to me for gratuity, I sent his Service Register for verification to the Assistant Collector, in charge of records of the Cantonment Magistrates Court, who returned it stating that it was already verified and attested by the Cantonment Magistrate and that there were no necessary records amongst the papers handed over to him for verifying the entries again in detail. As the Service Books are invariably prepared from Pay abstracts and as the applicants service book was already completed and verified by Major Tillard, the late Cantonment Magistrate before he handed over the records of his Office to the Assistant Collector, I made an entry in Column "How verified" in the 2d page of the application to the effect that it has been verified by Pay Abstract & by Cantonment Magistrate. The applicant having been shown as Batta Peon in the Acquittance Rolls of the Cantonment Magistrates

Court from September 1875 to Septr. 1876 (vide assistant Collectors letter No. 323 D/19 June/80) and as Process Server in the said Court in the returns of your Office from 1876 & subsequently (vide your letter No. $\frac{A.D.R.}{279}$ D/17 April/80) his services from Septr 1875 to Octr 1879 which include the period between April 1877 and Novr. 1878 were considered as verified.

There are no records at all in the Asst. Collectors Office to prove the employment of the peon from April 1877 to Novr. 1878.

An affidavit taken from the applicant and the testimony of a Contemporary servant to prove that he was continuously employed from 1873 to 1879 are herewith forwarded.

No The Assistant Collector in charge of the records of the late Cantonment Magistrate's Court informs me that the only papers available in his office for tracing the services of the applicant are the acquittance Rolls from September 1875 to April 1877 & from November 1878 to October 1879. The entries in the service book and application are incorrect in regard to dates &c., but as the entire period of the applicant's pensionable service has been duly verified from the records of this Office, the return of the documents to the Superintending Engineer for correction was considered unnecessary as only delaying the submission of the applicant's papers for the orders of Government. For the same reason the specific report and opinion of the Head of office as prescribed in the amended rule 6 to Section 84, Civil Pension Code, was considered unnecessary and has not been obtained.

The applicant's services were dispensed with on the 31st Decr 1879, owing to General reduction of Establishment in the Public Works Depart.
