The applicant has however submitted a letter (Vide original letter dated 23d September 1880 and 2 Enclosures) in explanation of the fact and probably the other moiety of his pay (viz. As the applicant was allowed to revert to his substantive appointment on 1st March 1877, and as it is very clear from the records that the applicant was engaged on Famine duty it is presumed that he secured a lien on his substantive appointment, and under Section 28 of the Civil Pension Code the period has been classed as qualifying. It is observed however that the exclusion of the period will in no way affect the amount of retiring allowances admissible to the applicant.
