Extract from the diary of the Sessions Court at Guntoor dated 6th February 1854.

The Sessions Judge has repeatedly endeavoured to check the intercourse between the Prisoners when in the cooking sheds and strangers and on more than one occasion has observed that the peons on duty permit this intercourse; on a late occasion a Peon was suspended for two months for this dereliction of duty. The Peon Nursing Perantalu on guard at the Cooking sheds at 9 A.M. on Sunday has been very clearly convicted of conniving at the delivery of rice by convicts to a stranger lately released from the Jail at Rajahmundry for which he is dismissed, his plea that the the offence had been repeated for five days previously being no excuse, the last reduced Peon will be employed to complete the number as usual.
