From the Deputy Director of Revenue Settlement, dated 24th November 1880.

No. A.D.J.-1571.

Certificate and Report of Accountant-General.

Certified that qualifying service in superior grades has been duly proved for four years, four months, and four days, and that, subject to the remarks below recorded, a compensation gratuity not exceeding Rs. 96, equal to four months' pay, is admissible under Sections 59 and 68 (a) of the Civil Pension Code. The calculations have been duly verified. It will be seen from the history of service that the applicant was allowed an increase of pay at Rs. 4 a-month with effect from the 1st June 1880. It was apparently enjoyed by him for fourteen days only. The grant of such an increase raised the applicant's gratuity to Rs. 16 more than the amount to which he would otherwise seem to be entitled. In justification of the grant the officer in charge of the Settlement Department in his reply, No. 392-116, dated the 19th February 1881, explains that the applicant was not promoted in the ordinary course, but was transferred to a vacant post of the Ganjam Party in view to his retirement on its abolition. The consideration of Government is invited to the point in fixing the gratuity with reference to Section 22, Civil Pension Code.

2. The particulars required by Rules 1 and 6 under Section 59 of the Code are given by the Deputy Director of Revenue Settlement in his remarks opposite No. 4 on the third page of the application.

3. The delay in the submission of the application is explained in the letter referred to in the endorsement by the officer in charge of the Settlement Department, No. 30-2, dated the 8th January 1881.

and 4 days; and that a Compensation pension (gratuity) not exceeding Rs. 9 beyond 64 months pay, is admissible under Section 59 and 60 (a) of the Civil Pension Code. The calculations have been duly verified.

It will be seen from the history of service that the applicant was allowed an increase of pay of Rs. 14 a month, with effect from the 1st June 1889. It was apparently enjoyed by him for 14 days only. The grant of such an increase raised the applicant's salary to Rs. 16 more than the amount to which he would otherwise have been entitled. In justification of the grant the Officer in Charge of the Settlement Department in his reply of 29th dated the 19th February 1887 explained that the applicant was not promoted in the ordinary course, but was transferred to a vacant post of the Settlement Department in his retirement on its abolition. The consideration of Government is invited to the point in fixing the gratuity with reference to Section 22, Civil Pension Code. The provisions required by rules 1 and 6 under Section 59 of the Code are given by the Deputy Director Revenue.

The delay in the submission of the application is explained in the letter referred to in the endorsement by the Officer in Charge of the Settlement Department, No. 2 dated the 8th January 1887.
