Salem
31st December 1878

From
The Superintendent of Police Salem
To
The Inspector General of Police
Madras

Sir I have the honor to forward the accompanying punishment Roll against Inspector Parthasarady toidm for your orders.

In explanation of the charges against him, I may explain that on the 25th December it accidentally came to my notice that the Bromalote Station House officer was in Salem inquiring into a case said to have been committed in that Station Range on 21st December 1878. Having received no report I was rather incredulous and called for explanation.

On 26th I learned indirectly still the case had occurred as alleged, but the Inspector's diary of 23rd enclosed on that date (received 26th) while it should be inspected from above Station, and books and inquired of the men, stated "nothing crime reported". He also stated the Hth Constable "went on beat work" On examining the Crime Register I found he had on this date initialled the entry in that book of this very case and then he went home and calmly reported to me as above.

3. The first (official) intimation of the case having occurred I received at 7 P.M. on 26th when I got the occurrence report forwarded with the Inspector's diary of 24th. He was at Tromalore (10) ten miles from Salem. Thus from the time the case was reported to Police to a report of its occurrence reaching me was about 100 hours, in fact the information had travelled at the rate of one mile in (10) ten hours!!

4. Finally when on 24th he does report the case at all it is under 398 with 4 or 5 persons concerned whereas the special report from the Hth Constable brought it under 395 with 25 persons implicated.

5. The Inspector in his Diaries makes no mention of his having fewer prior evening of 24th subsequent to his making his inquiries into the case on the spot.

6. On my arrival at Tromalore I took a statement "A" from Inspector Parthasarady Iyer, he states he received the first intimation of the case in the evening on his return from inspecting the Station through the Hth Constable's Special report; (he specifies the time as 4 or 4-30 P.M.) he made no attempt to explain the fact which I brought his notice that by initialling the Crime Register he clearly was aware of the crime when he was at the station. He subsequently admitted (2nd Statement B) he had the special report in question read to him directly after his arrival on morning of 23rd which is no doubt the case and which he might then and there have forwarded to Superintendent.

7 The Inspector appears to have given orders that Occurrence Reports for Superintendent and Magistrates should be sent to him and he ~~has~~ thus had it in his power to manipulate his cases as seemed good to him. But for the matter accidentally coming to light as it did, he might perhaps be ~~carrying~~ carrying on this little game now.

8 Inspector Parthasarady Noidoo was reported in October 1877 for delay in reporting a murder case

Cases (Chinnappaupatty) Major Hodges writes "Inspector Parthasarady Noidoo displayed great weakness during the inquiry into the Chinnappaupatty Station House Officer's case and although he was on the spot with the Sub Magistrate and within ten (10) miles off sent no report until after the warrants for the apprehension of the Station House Officer and his men had been issued and executed, neither did he send word to the Division Inspector in whose Range the Station was in sufficient time, he appears to have believed implicitly in his Maharatta Station Officer of Taramangala."

9 Inspector Parthasarady Noidoo's service is rather more than 17 $\frac{3}{4}$ years, he was reduced in 1867 (Roll dated 31st October not in this office) to 5th Class for one month for gross neglect of duty; in 1872 a favourable opinion is recorded of him by the then Superintendent Major Picton Warlow.
