READ—the following letters :—

From the Director of Public Instruction, dated 19th November 1881, No. 4955.
From the Accountant-General, dated 27th January 1882, Nos. A.D.J.—428-9.

ORDER—dated 4th March 1882, No. 212, Pension.

Mr. Samuel Cox, late Master, Government Primary School, Tripasore, first entered the service of Government as a Clerk in the Office of the Inspector-General of Ordnance on the 1st May 1855. On the 17th December 1857, or after a service of 2 years, 7 months, and 16 days in the Ordnance Office, he enlisted himself as a Trooper in the Mounted Police which was then organized in the exigency of the mutiny. He served in the Mounted Police for a period of 1 year, 11 months, and 15 days, and when their numbers were reduced and the extra men disbanded on the 1st December 1859, Mr. Cox was allowed, along with others, a gratuity of two months' pay and discharged. After this he was without Government employ till the 23rd May 1868, when he was entertained in the Government service as a Master, and his wife, Mrs. Cox, as a Mistress, in the Government Primary School for Military European Pensioners' children at Tripasore. Both of them continued in this employ till the school was abolished by G.O., dated 7th January 1881, No. 3, Educational, on the 31st March 1881. A compensation pension of Rs. 13-5-4 is now applied for by the Director of Public Instruction for Mr. Cox, in consideration of his total service of 17 years, 5 months, and 9 days under Government, and a compensation gratuity of Rs. 28 for Mrs. Cox for her service of 12 years, 10 months, and 8 days at the Tripasore School.

G.O., 26th November 1859, No. 1608, Judicial.

2. But as it appears that no saving to Government was effected by the reduction, the funds set free by the abolition of the school having been otherwise utilized,* the Accountant-General points out that no compensation pension or gratuity is strictly admissible under the rules; and further, in the case of Mr. Cox, the Accountant-General would reject as non-qualifying all his service prior to his entertainment in the Educational Department on the ground that he was granted a gratuity, which was not subsequently refunded. This latter objection is, however, overruled, for it is clear that the two months' gratuity was specially granted in lieu of notice to quit, and was fixed without any reference to the applicant's previous service and the Pension Rules, as the following extract from the letter of the Commissioner of Police, dated 21st November 1859, No. 153, shows:—

* G.O., dated 4th April 1881, No. 97, Educational.

"Para. 2. I propose to strike these men off on the last day of this month and recommend that a gratuity, equal to the amount of two months' pay, be sanctioned for each individual.

"3. According to the provisions of the Police Act, no member of the Police Force can resign without giving two months' notice, and it is this fact which has guided me in making the recommendation as above."

Mr. Cox is therefore entitled to retain that gratuity without its retention vitiating any of his service either in the Ordnance Department or the Police. Of his earlier service in the Ordnance Office, however, a period of 1 year, 2 months, and 21 days must be excluded as service rendered before the age of 22; and his total pensionable service will therefore stand at 16 years, 2 months, and 18 days.

3. In consideration of the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Cox were thrown out of employment by the late abolition of the Pensioners' School, and of the declaration of the Director of Public Instruction that there is no probability whatever of their services being required in the Educational Department, the Government of India will be requested, as a special case, to grant them the retiring allowances that would be due to them had a real saving to Government been effected by their reduction, viz., a compensation pension of Rs. 13-5-4 to Mr. Cox and a gratuity of Rs. 28 to Mrs. Cox.

4. No recovery is necessary of the pay said to have been overdrawn by Mr. Cox for the period from 17th to 31st December 1857, when he did double duty as a Clerk in the Ordnance Office by day and as a Trooper in the Mounted Police by night.

SIR,

I am directed to forward the accompanying copy of Proceedings of this Government, No. 212, of this date, and to recommend that, under the circumstances therein stated, Mr. Cox may be granted a compensation pension of Rs. 13-5-4 per mensem, and Mrs. Cox a gratuity of Rs. 28, notwithstanding there has been no saving to Government by the abolition of the Tripasore Pensioners' School.

I have the honor to be, when he was entertained in the Government service as a Master, and his wife, Mrs. Cox, as a Mistress, in the Government Primary School for Military European Pensioners' children at Tripasore. Both of them continued in this employ till the school was abolished by G.O., dated 7th January 1881, No. 3, Educational, on the 31st March 1881. This latter objection is, however, overruled, for it is clear that the two months' gratuity was specially granted in lieu of notice to quit, and was fixed without any reference to the applicant's previous service and the Pension Rules, as the following extract from the letter of the Commissioner of Police, dated 21st November 1859, No. 153, shows:—

Read the following paper:—

From H. B. GRIGG, Esq., Director of Public Instruction, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Madras, 23rd February 1881, No. 793 [Current No. 78].

I have the honor to state that during his last visit to the Upper Godávari District, Mr. Monro consulted the Special Assistant Agent as to the desirability of opening certain additional Elementary Schools in the Bhadráchalam and Rékapalle Taluks. He now recommends that schools may be established in the five villages named in the margin on the same scale as that adopted in the other Elementary Government Schools in these tracts, viz.:—

1. Parnasala.
2. Chódavaram.
3. Gouridevipetah.
4. Kesavaram.
5. Chinturu.

One Master on Rs. 10.
Contingencies, As. 8.

2. The Collector of the Godávari District states that he has nothing to say against the measure, the Special Assistant Agent having expressed an opinion in favor of the proposal.

3. The total expenditure is Rs. 52-8-0 per mensem. The abolition of the Tripasore School has effected a saving of Rs. 47 a-month, leaving only Rs. 5-8-0 to be met from savings in the provision for salary grants. As there is no likelihood of any indigenous schools being started at present on the results system in the localities referred to, I beg to recommend that the establishment of the proposed schools be sanctioned.

Schools.—The establishment of certain additional Elementary Schools in the Bhadrachalam and Rekapalle Taluks, Godavari District, sanctioned.

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department, from 22nd to 31st October 1859.

No. 25. Read the following letter from Colonel J. C. BOULDERSON, Commissioner of Police; to T. PYCROFT, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George, dated 29th September 1859, No. 130.

1. I have the honor to report that under instructions of the Honorable the Governor, personally given to me, after an inspection of the Troop, I have not filled up 12 vacancies which then existed, and to state that the strength of the Troop has thereby been reduced from 70 to 58 Troopers.

2. I request I may be favored with instructions, as to whether I am to keep the surplus Saddlery in serviceable order, to be issued when necessary, to replace any that may become unserviceable, or sell it and carry the proceeds to the credit of Government. If the Saddlery is laid by for a length of time, the leather will perish, unless well cared for, but the cost of looking after it will be very trifling. Under the expectation, therefore, that the Government may, some of these days, be pleased to restore this useful and efficient Troop to its former strength, and as it would take some time, in such case, to prepare fresh Saddlery, I respectfully recommend that the whole be carefully preserved.

3. The number of horses is also in excess of that required for present use, but not to the same extent as the Saddlery, some casualties* having lately occurred; and as many of the horses are very old, more may die before a fresh remount can be had; with respect to them, therefore, I recommend that only half the number surplus be sold, and that the rest be retained to supply casualties, expenses of gram and grass-cutter only being allowed.

* Four died.

No. 26. ORDER THEREON, 24th October 1859, No. 1436.

The first paragraph of the above letter will be communicated to the Offices of Audit and Account.

2. The Commissioner of Police will deal as he proposes with the Saddlery, and will retain half the excess horses, selling the other half.

Chief Secretary.

Ordinary

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department, for the month of November 1859.

Read the following papers.

No. 44. From Colonel J. C. BOULDERSON, Commissioner of Police; to T. PYCROFT, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George, dated 15th October 1859, No. 133.

Home Department, Fort William, 29th April 1859, No 1730.

* No. 1203.

1. With reference to the letter from the Government of Bengal, marginally noted, copies of which are appended, and the Order of this Government thereon, under date 24th September 1859, Judicial Department,* by which I am required to report in detail in respect to the manner in which I purpose to give effect to the instructions of the Supreme Government contained in the letter to your address from the Secretary of the Government of India adverted to, for the introduction of a much more economical system of clothing the Madras Police Force than that which now obtains, I beg respectfully in accordance therewith, to offer the following observations. The uniform now in use has been found during a long† course of years to answer its purpose well, it resembles the dress of the citizens, and yet bears a distinctive character which is readily recognizable. The material is of a cheap and serviceable kind, of the quality and description in common use by persons of the same class, and it is presumed that it has become so, because it is the cheapest and at the same time the most comfortable and lasting, that the inhabitants of this city can purchase; it is also cool and well suited to the climate.

† Upwards of 30 years.

2. A small saving may in time be effected averaging Rupees 395-4 per annum, by substituting a waist belt for the shoulder belt worn by the Peons, which change would also render the use of a sash unnecessary, thus making a further saving of Rupees 221-8 per annum, practicable; but on the other hand it would necessitate the provision of an entire set of waist plates, involving a probable cost of Rupees 1,581, at 3 Rupees each.

3. The long jackets in use are made up of long-cloth of the quality which was procurable before the late increase of duty on goods imported from England, at 8 Rupees per piece of 40 yards. The cost of each is 1 Rupee and 3 Annas. If the style of dress of the Peons is altered, and it be made of the stout material (American drill) of which the Marine Police dress consists and of the same shape, the cost will be nearly the same, but a saving can be effected in the amount of the estimate by allowing Detectives short, instead of long, long-cloth jackets, the cost of the former being each 1 Rupee and 3 Annas, and the letter 14 Annas.

4. The turban is formed of the most serviceable country head cloth used for that purpose that can be had, and the color is the most lasting known. Objection has been taken to the shape in which this article is worn, but that is a matter which can easily be altered. A form which will cost the men less to make up, may be introduced, but it will produce no saving, if an article of the same kind and quality be still supplied, I therefore propose to substitute a common and scanty head dress of red color, such as is now worn by the Madras Native Sapper Militia; the cost of which will be Rupees 1¼, instead of 2½ Rupees.

5. The trowsers now worn are made of American drill of the texture most in use, dyed red, which being an expensive color to fix, I purpose that in future the Peons shall wear black trowsers of the same description with those worn by Sepoys.

6. I propose also that sandals and helmets shall be no longer supplied, and that tunics be allowed to the Preventive Force only, the Detectives being supplied with a new cumbly every second, instead of every third year, and that the tunics be required to last five, instead of four years, and if care is taken to secure a supply of good broad cloth, I think this article of dress will last out five monsoon seasons, but in such case the cloth must be had out from England from a respectable House, because that which is usually procurable in the market here, is of very inferior quality, and would not last two years.

7. The cost of the clothing to the State may also be considerably reduced by the levy of a rate of a ¼ Anna per Rupee on the pay of each man, commencing in January 1860.

8. The probable cost of the clothing taken on an average of five years is given below, and following that you will find the items of the proposed new dresses of the lower grades of the Force, and the cost thereof. If this revised and economical system be adopted, the average annual saving on amount of former estimates, will be about Rupees 2,694-12-0.

Decrease on former Estimate.....	2,663	2	3

10. By table D. annexed, you will find, taking the Force at the present strength, that the sum of Rupees 1,288-15-2, will be realized yearly by the stoppage of 3 Pice per Rupee, and by table B, that the annual cost of the clothing, taking an average of five years, will be about Rupees 6,564-4-2, and if a stoppage of a ¼ of an Anna be made from the pay of each man for clothing, the Government will on an average have to contribute yearly Rupees 5,275-5.

11. I do most earnestly entreat the Government to hesitate to do any thing which may tend to injure the morale, discipline, and good feeling of the fine Force which is now doing the heavy Police work of this populous city and its suburbs, and that they will bear in mind when this subject is before them, that every article of food and clothing, &c., has greatly increased in price since the year 1856, that the wages of artizans and labourers have also considerably risen, and that the lower order of Officers in the pay of Government, such as Peons, do not receive at the present time, so high a rate of wages as is paid by Householders and Tradesmen to those whom they employ, and that there is no prospect of improvement in that respect, but rather the contrary. I trust, therefore, that after mature consideration, the Government will be pleased to sanction the average yearly expenditure of Rupees 6,564-4-2 at the cost of the State, instead of adopting my counter proposal to levy a rate on the pay of the men, to supply a portion of the necessary funds.

12. A revised estimate for the clothing of the Marine Police Force, is also herewith forwarded, and when you submit it for sanction to His Excellency the Governor in Council, I beg you to favor me by calling to his recollection that the chief portion of the cost of this body is defrayed by the levy of a rate of 3 Annas on each cargo boat, under the provisions of Act No. XXVIII of 1858.

13. For reasons below given, I consider that clothing should be furnished to this establishment at the expense of the State entirely, and that no stoppage should be made from the pay of the men to cover any portion of the charge.

1st.—The service is not sought for, nor is it popular, and it is most desirable that it should not become less so.

2ndly.—It is already very difficult to get good men to enter it, and to retain them when enlisted; this arises from the constant exposure during all weathers, the frequent serious accidents which occur in crossing the surf and the great strictness with which the duty is necessarily enforced, in order to secure efficiency and give satisfaction to the mercantile community. Since the Force was raised [this time last year] one man has died of injury received when afloat, several have been severely, and some seriously hurt. The liability of these men to sustain serious injury may be judged from the fact, that during the last six weeks no less than 51 boats have been broken when crossing the surf.

3rdly.—The heavy wear and tear of the clothing, from the men being constantly afloat, wet and frequently capsized.

14. With respect to the clothing of this Force, therefore, I do earnestly beg you to impress upon the Honorable the Governor and the Members of the Government, that unless entire freedom from expense on that account is accorded to the members of the Force, I fear I may not be able to keep it up in its present efficient state. It is now a credit to the Government, and is considered by the mercantile community to be of invaluable service to them by preventing pillage by boatmen in the transit of goods between the vessels and the shore and vice versâ. It is my hope and expectation that the supply of clothing gratis to this body will secure the services of good and trustworthy men, and considering the responsible duty which this Force has to perform, I feel sure the Honorable the Governor in Council will be disposed to grant to it the privilege which I now solicit.

15. You will find appended revised estimates* for the clothing of the Peons employed at the Mint, and at the Clothing Board Offices, the cost of which will be debited to those Departments, and one also for the clothing of the Police Troop which has not been altered. With reference to this latter, you will observe, that I have indented for clothing for 12 Troopers under the sanctioned number, for the reasons given in my letter to Government, under date 22nd September last, in which I informed you that His Excellency the Governor had directed that 12 vacancies, which existed in the Troop when he inspected it, should not be filled up. I have carefully examined the cost of each article of clothing, included in this estimate, and find I am unable to suggest any reduction, the articles supplied to the men are few in number, and considering that they are out on duty every other night, it is necessary they should be strong and serviceable, and keeping these necessary requirements in view, they are of the cheapest kind procurable.

No. 45. From Colonel J. C. BOULDERSON, Commissioner of Police; to T. PYCROFT, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George, dated 17th October 1859, No. 134.

With reference to the Proceedings of Government dated 5th Instant, No. 1359, Judicial Department, I have the honor to forward revised estimates for the Police Force noted in the margin, prepared on a more economical scale, in accordance with the instructions of Government communicated with Orders of the 24th Ultimo, No. 1293.

1. Foot Police....	4,729	15	0
2. Marine do.	1,127	8	0
3. Mint Guard....	105	2	0
4. Clothing Board	38	15	0
5. Mounted Police	2,612	5	5

2. I beg also to forward the estimate for the clothing of the Troop which has not been altered, amounting to Rupees 2,612-5-5, the amount of this estimate is higher than usual occasioned by the increased duty on articles exported. I request that the Sub-Treasurer may be directed to advance me the amount of these estimates, subject to adjustment on my furnishing bills for the actual charges passed by the Civil Auditor in each separate account.

3. I would beg leave to suggest, that clothing for the mounted men be made hereafter by the Agent for Army Clothing, that Officer will be able to make it up much cheaper than I can.

4. Broad cloth for the men of the Troop for the year 1860, has been got out from England by Lieutenant Mitchell, but it has cost more than was anticipated, but the quality is so good that I consider it ought to last 16 months instead of one year.

No. 46. MINUTE by the HONORABLE the PRESIDENT.

I take this opportunity of submitting to the Council a separate demi-official correspondence I have had with Colonel Boulderson on the subject of the Town Police.

I entirely agree with that able and deserving Officer, that the high degree of security and confidence in which the population of Madras of all classes are living, cannot be too much appreciated; and that it would be unwise and short-sighted policy, in reliance upon the existence of this state, to impair the means by which it has been attained.

The increase in the rate of wages and the price of provisions, and the additional duty which has been imposed upon the Police by transferring to them guards previously furnished by the Military, are also important elements of the question.

There are, however, several savings which may be made without impairing the efficiency of the Police.

The most important of these is in their dress. On this point, I recommend that Colonel Boulderson be instructed to remodel the dress of the City Police on the general plan of that of the Marine Police, which is not only cheaper, but, in my opinion, more suitable and effective than the other.

I would, on no account, place the Police under stoppages for their dress. The plan of furnishing them, as part of their wages, with a plain suitable dress, such as is worn by the class of society to which they belong, is attended with much advantage; and, including this, they are by no means over-paid. It would be a breach of faith to take stoppages from the existing Policemen, and if it were insisted upon in reference to new appointments, a trifling saving would be obtained at the expense of chronic discontent.

The Mounted Force should be reduced from 80 to 50, as proposed by Colonel Boulderson, by eliminating the least valuable members of the Force, giving them proper gratuities.

I do not recommend any present reduction in the number of the Force beyond what will be obtained by not filling up vacancies until it is reduced to the authorised establishment. I never contemplated giving up any tanah, but I thought, and still think, that more Policemen are employed on many occasions than the case requires. By attention to this point, upon which I shall continue to communicate with Colonel Boulderson, I hope that some reduction may be effected.

(Signed) C. E. TREVELYAN.

Gindi, 20th October 1859.

No. 47. MINUTE BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

I think the expense of the City Police may be reduced as proposed by the President without injury to efficiency, but beyond that limit reductions are to be deprecated.

20th October 1859. (Signed) PAT. GRANT.

From the Honorable Sir CHARLES TREVELYAN, K. C. B.; to Colonel BOULDERSON, Commissioner of Police, dated 13th September 1859.

I must express to you, the satisfaction with which I assured myself yesterday by a personal inspection of your Mounted Force and their Barracks, and also of your chief office, that all that relates to these establishments, is in a well-cared-for and efficient state. This is only what I expected from my previous observation of your management of the Police Force.

I am confirmed by what passed yesterday in the opinion that there ought, for the present, to be some reduction of the mounted portion of your Force by not filling up vacancies till it is reduced to a certain standard. This Police Cavalry was the creation of the late troubles. It is still (except the 12 vacancies you reported yesterday) at the maximum which was found necessary at that time. It is much the most expensive description of Police. Its uses are special and exceptional, and can easily be curtailed in times of tranquillity, as I know from my experience of the London and Irish Police, besides my previous 12 years' experience in India, and should troubled times again come, it can be easily raised to its former standard.

I, therefore, request that you will not fill up any of the 12 vacancies alluded to, and that you will carefully review the present appropriation of the Mounted Police and advise me to what number it may properly be gradually reduced by not filling up vacancies, with the understanding, that if circumstances should require that it should be again raised to the former or even to a larger amount, it will without hesitation be done.

MY DEAR COLONEL BOULDERSON, Madras, 24th September 1859.

I have attentively read these papers, and the conclusions at which I have arrived, are, that the existing pecuniary advantages of the Madras Police ought not to be diminished, but that the expense of that Force must be reduced.

The clothing seems to me to be unnecessarily expensive and to be of a kind unfavorable to vigorous exertion. This is not merely my opinion, but has long been a subject of general remark. On the day when the first Pile of the new pier was screwed, I was struck by the appearance of superior handiness and agility of the Marine Police, which was chiefly owing to the difference of their dress. The dress which has been selected for the new Mufassal Police is also totally different from that of your Police, and they cannot both be right.

But the principal saving should be in the number of the men. I am confident from my experience of the Police administration in this and other countries, that we are over-manned. This is one of the most orderly and quiet populations in the British Empire, and there is at present no appearance of any thing likely to disturb the public tranquillity. What I desire is, that you should carefully revise the whole of your detailed arrangements, and see to what extent the number of subordinate posts and of men employed on those posts may be diminished. The men collected on particular occasions, as for instance at the Cathedral on Sunday, might, also, I think, be reduced. I would not give the men more work to do, but would diminish the work they have to do. There seems to me to be a waste of labour; and as the labour of our Madras Police must be of a costly kind, we ought to economise it.

The Mounted Police, the establishment of which, is, I believe, still at the maximum, considered necessary during the mutiny, ought to be considerably diminished. I am not aware that there is any such Force either at Bombay or Calcutta. There is a small mounted Force in London and in Ireland, but it does not bear nearly the same proportion to the Foot Police as your's does. If disturbed times come again, we might readily increase both horse and foot, and the horse accoutrements should be kept in store.

I had rather that you should take the initiative in this matter than that it should be pressed upon you by the Government, and I therefore rely upon your giving your attention closely to it and furnishing me with a report soon after my return from the north.

(Signed) C. E. TREVELYAN.

From Colonel J. C. BOULDERSON, Commissioner of Police; to His Excellency Sir C. E. TREVELYAN, K. C. B., dated 15th October 1859, No. 135.

1. In obedience to the orders given in your letter to my address of date 24th September, I have the honor to submit the report therein called for, but I hope I may be permitted to say that I do so most reluctantly, since I feel that I cannot meet your wishes in taking the initiative in the matters to which you principally refer, without doing violence to my own convictions. I am deeply sensible of the kind intention with which you press me to suggest those measures, instead of waiting for the commands of the executive on the subject and beg to thank you accordingly, but in my humble opinion the reducing of the strength of the Police Force, of this populous city, is a step to be deprecated, because the number of men at present entertained is not in excess, it is not, I submit, greater than is necessary to keep up that orderly and peaceable conduct on the part of the inhabitants which has attracted your attention, and at the same time to suppress crime and promote the comfort and security of the inhabitants.

2. In copy of my letter to Government respecting the average annual cost of clothing the Police Force, you will observe that I have proposed a considerable reduction of expense amounting to about Rupees 2,663-2-3, on an average annually, and I do, therefore, hope that, upon mature consideration, you will reject my proposal to levy a tax on the pay of the men to cover a portion of the cost thereof and recommend that it shall be paid in full by the State; I encourage myself in that hope, because in the 1st paragraph of your letter you say "the existing pecuniary advantages of the Force ought not to be diminished." I would submit for your consideration, as an alternative to making any deduction from the pay of the Force on this account or diminishing their supply of clothing, whether it might not be advisable to obtain legal sanction for the levy of a small Force rate on the public.

3. I presume to think that upon an examination of the cost of the articles supplied for the use of the men, you will not deem them unnecessarily expensive, the cost of the clothing of each Peon amounting only to Rupees 8-14-1 per annum. A reference to the prices of the articles given by people to their Horsekeepers and Coachmen, as stated in the Friend-in-Need Society's Report will, I think, settle that question.

4. With reference to the style of dress, I am not surprised that that of the Marine Police has obtained your approval, for it is certainly neat and well suited to the duties which they have to perform.

5. In my letter to Government you will observe that I have not recommended its adoption for the Land Force, but have left it to your Excellency to direct, and I did so because the saving of expense which that alteration in the uniform would make, would only be Rupees 616-12 per annum, whereas the immediate outlay for the purchase of waist plates, and buckles, would be very considerable, probably, Rupees 1,581, calculating the cost of each set at 3 Rupees, and allowing a small deduction for the value of the brass of the breast plates, and Number now in use, besides which, the change of uniform to that of the Marine Police will not be popular among men, who are proud of what they consider the stylish handsome dress which they now wear; but in my own judgment there is really no substantial reason why the change you propose should not be made, and so far as the alteration of the shape of the Turban goes, I shall rejoice at it, because the present shape, although distinctive, and much liked by the men, is not suited to heavy work, and it costs the wearers much to make up, viz., annas 2 every time.

6. We have attached to the Police Force at the present moment, 1 Duffadar, 2 Naigues, and 40 Peons, formerly Sepoys in the service of the late Nabab of the Carnatic, who were disbanded in October 1855. In June of the following year, 120 of these men were taken into pay upon my recommendation, to save them and their families from absolute starvation, and to prevent them from being driven by absolute want, to procure food by unlawful means, which might at that period have been attended with disastrous consequences to many here, and in Mofussil Stations also, before substantial assistance could have been afforded. The effect was good, and I secured by it a degree of influence among that class of people, which I could not otherwise have obtained. A very large portion of this extra body has since been taken by me into the Police Force to fill vacancies, and thereby the original cost of it has been reduced from Rupees 800 per month to Rupees 333, but the number of Mussulmen on the Police Muster Roll is now so great, that I am unwilling to add to it, by taking any more of these extra men into the fixed establishment at present. Those men, or an equivalent section of the regular Force, now take the following guards, which have been transferred to the Police under your Excellency's orders.

Post Office,
Collector's Cutcherry,
Lunatic Asylum,
General Hospital.

Some of them are old and growing infirm, but the rest are still effective and likely to continue so for many years to come. They have now had more than 2 years' experience as Police Officers, and most of them have become efficient, and now do their work well, and with a good will. I beg respectfully to suggest that all those of this body who are capable of undergoing further service, should be allowed the option of transfer to the Mofussil Police, or of immediate discharge here, I am persuaded however none of them will volunteer for that service, nor will they be induced to enter it by persuasion, but they will remain here in harness so long as they can hope to draw their pay regularly, but that is all, and therefore the order, if given, must be decisive when they are disposed of, the guards taken by this number of men can again be taken by the Veterans.

7. Now with respect to the standing Force, you say you consider we are over-manned, because this is one of the most orderly and well conducted Towns in the British Empire, but that order and quietness are, I submit, chiefly the result of the labors of my predecessor, and of the influence which the Police through his good management obtained and have since then preserved. It is owing to the continued vigilance of the superior members of the Force, and the body of Policemen whom they have at their disposal, upon those frequent occasions when the inhabitants congregate for festive and other purposes, that such gatherings are usually unattended with offences, and that all who partake in them feel perfectly safe. But if that protective influence were weakened to any extent, by a reduction of the number of the Police, I fear that women and children would soon be afraid to trust themselves abroad on such occasions, attired in their best clothes and ornaments, as securely as they do at present. Madras has a large share of budmashes, thieves, pilferers, cheats, and clever rogues of all sorts as well as receivers of stolen property, and if the watch over persons of these classes is relaxed, as it necessarily must be if any material reduction of the Force takes place, I fear that they would both greatly increase in number, and be emboldened to pursue their evil courses. After a most careful and anxious review of the whole matter therefore in obedience to your Excellency's wishes, I do with deep earnestness beg your Excellency to consider whether it is not better to leave well alone, rather than risk the comfort and safety of the inhabitants of this densely peopled Presidency town to procure a small saving, which if effected, would actually not exceed the cost of a single Company of a Native Infantry Regiment during the year.

8. My predecessor, Mr. E. F. Elliot, in his letter to Government, under date 22nd March 1856, strongly advocated the increase of the strength of the Force, and gave his reasons for so doing, and the Force was accordingly raised to its present standard, and since that period, independent of the effect which the Rebellion has had on the minds of all classes, a strong and bitter feeling of hostility to us and our rule has sprung up, and is I fear growing in intensity, notwithstanding the outward show of quietude and peace. It must be remembered also that the railway and the increase of the trade of the port, have introduced into Madras a numerous class of men, both European and Native, who require constant looking after, as your Excellency most truly observed in your Minutes about the Jury question, and further the high price of food and the demand for labor has considerably increased the number of the lower and most excitable portions of our population. With respect to the decrease of the duties of the Force, that is not so easily effected, because if there is a call by the inhabitants for the presence of the Police, on certain occasions and at certain times and places, the call must be attended to, for if any thing went wrong through the absence of a sufficient force of Police, the onus would be thrown on them, blame would be heaped on their chief by all parties, and the chances are, he would be called severely to account. The situation in the city has ever been a most anxious and watchful one, and when I take into consideration the views which my predecessor after an unexampled experience had formed, regarding the requirements of the Force, I hope I may be excused for praying that any change which would tend to render the office more onerous to his successors should be avoided.

9. But your Excellency calls for certain information which I consider it is my duty to place before you, and having according to your desire, carefully revised the present disposition of the Force, I have prepared three tables, respectively marked A, B and C, in which you will find the following information.

A contains,

1. The strength of the Force prior to 1856.

2 & 3. The increase that year sanctioned, and disposal thereof.

4. The present strength of the Force.

5 & 6. The duty on which the members are employed.

The figures in red ink indicate the posts which, in my opinion, ought not to be reduced on any account and Black ink total transferred to table B.

B gives,

1. The names and situation of some of our outlying and less important stations.

2. To which is added the last black ink total of table A marked.*

Table C shews the amount of pay drawn per annum by the men of the Force on duty at the subordinate Tannah Stations mentioned in table B, and in the last black ink total of table A and the saving that would be effected if all the stations mentioned therein be abandoned.

The average cost of each Tannah of the preventive Force is per annum, Rupees 468-0-0 and of each Talliar or Detective Tanah is per annum, Rupees 420-0-0

should your Excellency determine that the strength of our Force shall be reduced, I beg respectfully to recommend that the total number of men employed at the Tannahs which you may order to be no longer occupied as Police Stations be divided by three, that $\frac{2}{3}$rds be struck off and $\frac{1}{3}$rd retained to strengthen the Stations of Inspectors of Divisions and any particular post, so that they may have few men available for immediate duty in their respective divisions, should any emergent call for the presence of Police Officers be made to them.

10. In conclusion taking all things into account, I would rather with your permission that the responsibility which a reduction of the strength of the Force will entail, should rest with the Government and emanate from the Council Chamber, instead of being devolved on me. When the orders are issued, it will be the duty of the Officer who may be at the head of the Force at the time, to carry them out without hesitation or cavil, and then to turn his mind towards rendering the men left, as efficient as possible; I need scarcely add that will be my own course if it falls on me to execute them.

11. With respect to the Troop, I consider the retention thereof, at its present strength, principally in a political light, for immediate Police purposes, it cannot be considered absolutely and essentially necessary, but it affords to the inhabitants, (by means of the Patroles which are out every night) a degree of security and comfort which they have not before experienced, and its abolition would I feel persuaded prove the occasion of much public regret. The present sanctioned strength is 80 men, and although in my own judgment, a large diminution of it is far from desirable, yet in obedience to the strong opinion expressed by your Excellency on the subject, I suggest that the number may be reduced to 50, but maintained at that figure.

No. 48. ORDER THEREON, 15th November 1859, No. 1556.

In his letter of the 15th Ultimo, recorded above, the Commissioner of Police reports in detail upon the manner in which he would propose to give effect to the instructions of the Supreme Government, that the system of clothing the Town Police should be on a very much more economical scale.

2. The Honorable the Governor in Council entirely agrees with the Commissioner of Police that the high degree of security and confidence in which the population of Madras of all classes are living, cannot be too much appreciated, and that it would be unwise and short-sighted policy, in reliance upon the existence of this state, to impair the means by which it has been attained.

3. Without, however, impairing the efficiency of the Police, there are several savings which may be made. The most important of these is in their dress. The dress of the City Police should be re-modelled on the general plan of that of the Marine Police, which is not only cheaper, but, in the opinion of His Excellency in Council, more suitable and effective than the other.

4. But the Government would on no account place the Police under stoppages for their dress. The plan of furnishing them, as part of their wages, with a plain suitable dress, such as is worn by the class of society to which they belong, is attended with much advantage; and including this they are by no means overpaid. It would besides be a breach of faith to take stoppages from the existing Policemen—and if it were insisted upon, in reference to new appointments, a trifling saving would be obtained at the expense of chronic discontent.

5. The only reduction in the number of the Force, which the Government at present contemplate, will be effected by not filling up vacancies, until the extra number, who continue to be kept in pay under the Order of the 2nd July last, No. 905, are absorbed into the authorised establishment.

Proceedings, 24th October 1859, No. 1436.

6. With respect to the Mounted Force, the Commissioner, it is observed, has already reported a reduction from 70 to 58 Troopers, by not filling up vacancies. He will now, as he proposes, further reduce the force to 50, including Constables and Troopers, by eliminating the least valuable members of the Force, giving them proper gratuities.

7. The Agent and Superintendent of Army Clothing will be requested to state whether he can undertake to supply clothing to the Mounted Police, which will in future be but 50 strong. Colonel Boulderson thinks that this can be done more cheaply by the Agent.

8. With these remarks, Government resolve to return the estimates submitted with the Commissioner's letter of the 17th Ultimo, excepting those for the Marine Police, respecting which, Orders will be passed in the Marine Department. Colonel Boulderson will submit fresh estimates prepared in accordance with these Orders. Government also sanction the estimate for the Mounted Police, subject to such saving as will result from the reduction of the strength to fifty men.

Sir,

In returning the papers relating to Mr. and Mrs. Cox's application for a gratuity, which were forwarded with your Proceedings No. 3283 dated 23 July 1881, I have the honor to state that some time ago Mr. Cox called to see me and informed that his application was not for a gratuity but for a pension. Accordingly I addressed the Accountant General on the subject giving a brief account of Mr. Cox's service in order to ascertain whether he is eligible for a pension but nothing definite was given in reply. I now beg to enclose an application for pension as well as an application for a gratuity, so that the latter may be passed without much further delay, if Mr. Cox's services do not entitle him to a pension.

2. There is one obstacle to granting a pension to Mr. Cox referred to in Section 176 of the Civil Pension Code, Fifth Edition, as when he was deprived of his post in the Police Force consequent upon upon the reduction of that force in January 1860, he received two months gratuity which he did not refund upon his re-instatement in the Public Service on the 22d May 1868, but he pleads ignorance of the rules for such doing &c. and this happened before the passing of Resolution No 3047 dated 8th September 1869 by which "the attention of all re-employed Officers was pointedly called to this Rule, and a fresh special opportunity was given to any Officer then in the Service who had neglected to refund a gratuity to remain his neglect." He is now willing to refund the gratuity above referred to if he is permitted to do so, which permission Government have doubtless the power to give.

3. With regard to the additional information required by the Accountant General as specified in his letter to you No 404/80 of the 25th July last I beg to state that items numbered 2. 4. 5. 8, and 24 have been given; but with respect to No 25, I am not been able to get any satisfactory explanation, Mr Cox having stated that the occurrence took place so long ago that he has not the slightest recollection of it.

Sir,

I have the honor to forward the following papers for the consideration and orders of Government.

(1) An application for a gratuity of Rs. 22 on account of Mrs Louisa Cox.

(2). An application for a one-third pension on account of Mr. Samuel Cox.

2. Mr. and Mrs. Cox were thrown out of employment on the late abolition of the pensioned School at Tripasore, and there is no probability whatever of their services being required in the the Educational department.

3. The case of Mrs. Cox is very clear and I beg to recommend that sanction be given for the gratuity claimed.

4. Mr. Cox originally applied for a gratuity, not being aware that his previous service in other departments could be added to his service at Tripasore. As his service extends over 17 years 5 months and 10 days he applies for a pension

5. The following is a brief history of Mr. Cox's service: He was entertained in the Military Board office on the 1st May 1855, and served continuously as a clerk until December 1857, when he was enlisted as a Trooper in the Mounted Police. On the 1st December 1859, the Police Force having been reduced, his services were dispensed with, and he received a gratuity of two months' pay. He was without Government employment until the 23rd May 1868, when he was appointed master of the School at Tripasore.

Government

6. There are two points in the above service I beg to submit for the favorable consideration of Government. From the 17th to the 31st December, or for 15 days Mr. Cox drew pay in two appointments, that is as a Clerk and as a Mounted Police Trooper. The explanation of this is that the Troop did duty at night only and Mr. Cox did duty in the day at his office. I believe that other clerks entered the Troop under the same circumstances; and as it had been formed under the emergency of the mutiny any suitable person with sufficient time at his command was received. The two services were separate, performed at different times during the twenty-four hours, and were separately paid for. It appears to me therefore that Mr. Cox should not now be called upon to refund the fifteen days' salary drawn by him in one appointment or the other.

Mr. Cox drew a gratuity of two months' pay when the Police Troop was broken up; and as he did not refund this when he was re-employed it must be presumed that his claim to pension is barred. Mr. Cox on being questioned, pleads ignorance of the rules; and I am disposed to give credit to his statement, because, situated as he was, in an isolated place like Tripasore, where in all probability neither gazette nor newspaper reached him; he could hardly have had his attention drawn to the the necessity for refunding what he had drawn. There is nothing also on record in this department to shew that the notifications on the subject of refunding gratuities was communicated to Mr. Cox. He has recently paid in the amount of gratuity drawn by him so as to revive his claim for pension. In recommending that it be accepted I beg that Government will take a lenient view of the entire case. From his age (48) and under present conditions of competition Mr. Cox is not at all likely to be again entertained in the service of Government; and, as under

under any circumstances his life is likely to be one of hardship. I would strongly recommend that the small pension of Rs. 13-5-4 which he claims be granted to him.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your Most Obedient Servant,

Sir,

With reference to the enquiry made in para 3 of your letter No. 4954 dated the 19th November 1881, as to whether the sum of Rs 60— refunded by Mrs. Cox, may be remitted to the Treasury, I have the honor to invite your attention to the Resolution of the Government of India, No. 3017, dated the 8th September 1869, published at page 422 of the Fort Saint George Gazette of the 28th Idem, by which, all special opportunity was allowed to all those officers who received gratuities for their earlier services but failed to refund them on re-employment under Government, to refund the gratuities at once, if they wanted to count their past services towards future pension. This opportunity was was not debarred of by the Govt. Cos.

the spirit of the 2 sentence of the 1 Rule to Rule 1 Section 176 of the Civil Pension Code was not design to prohibit any Head of Office from receiving the gratuity if claim ed by an Applicant at the time of retirement from the Service.

Under these circumstances this Office is of opinion that the sum now in your Profession should be returned to the Govt. Cos.
unless Government under a Special order permits you to accept the Refund.

I beg to point out again that the information regarding the Officer as to the amount of Leave to Govern ment Offered in consequence of the abolition of the Practice held by Mrs. and Mrs. Cox has not yet been furnished. In its absence, this Office is unable to dispose of their applications for gratuity. I request therefore that this may be furnished without further delay.

Your letter No 4956 dated the 19th Instant will be submitted to Government together with this Office report on the applications referred to above.

SIR,

With reference to your letter No. A.D.K. 201 of the 22nd ultimo, I have the honor to state that Rule 6 under Section 100 of the Civil Pension Code seems to refer to cases where one officer is discharged to make room for another & thus no real saving accrues to Government in respect of the cost of the appointment concerned. In the case under report the saving of Rs. 47 per mensem effected to Government is a real saving, the Pensioners' School having been abolished and no school started in its place. The amount of saving is also sufficient to cover the pension or gratuity admissible to Mr. and Mrs Cox. I do not understand understand the section of the Code to mean that the grant to a department is to be diminished by the amount to be given as pension, and therefore altho' the school concerned has been abolished the money is being expended on other objects connected with the Department as noted in G.O. dated 4th April 1891 No 97.

SIR,

With reference to para 2 of your letter No. 5344 dated 5th December 1881 relative to the amount of saving to Government effected immediately on the abolition of the Tripasore school, I have the honor to invite your attention to Rule No. 6 under section 100 of the Civil Pension Code and the circular order of the Government of India permitting as a good rule of the kind, both of which strictly prohibit the grant of compensation pension or gratuity to a person when the saving to Government effected in consequence of the abolition of the appointment is not sufficient to meet the cost of the retiring allowance payable thereon on retirement. I beg therefore once more to request that the return of monthly saving now available for appropriation may contain the cost of pension or gratuity admissible to Mr. Ainslie, so that the cases may be definitely reported, so that their cases may be submitted to Government without further delay.

Order. Nov 4 March 1852 No 212

Mr Samuel Cox late Master, Govt Primary School, Trichinopoly, first entered the Service of Govt as a Clerk in the Office of the Inspector General of Schools on the 1st May 1855. On the 17th December 1857, or after a service of 2 years 7 months and 16 days in the Ordnance Office he enlisted himself as a trooper in the Mounted Police which was then organized on the occasion of of the Mutiny. He Served in the Mounted Police for a period of 1 year 11 months and 15 days, and when their numbers were reduced and the extra men disbanded on the 1st December 1859, Mr Cox was allowed along with the others a gratuity of two months pay and discharged. After this he was without Govt. employ till the 23rd May 1868 when he was entertained in the Govt Service as a Master, and his wife Mrs Cox as a Mistress in the Govt Primary School for Indian children at Mapumus. Both of them continued in this employ till the School was abolished by G.O. dated 7th Jan 78 No 3 Educational on the 31st March 1881. A compensation pension of Rs 13. 5. 4 is now applied for by the Director of Public Instruction for Mr Cox in consideration of his total Service of 17 years 5 months and 9 days under Govt and a compensation gratuity of Rs 28 for Mrs Cox for her Service of 12 years 10 M. and 8 days at the Triplicane School.

2. But as it appears that no saving to Govt was effected by the reduction, the funds set free by the abolition of the school having been otherwise utilized, the Accountant General points out that no compensation pension or gratuity is strictly admissible under the rules; and further in the case of Mr Cox the Accountant General would would reject as non-qualifying all his service prior to his enlistment in the Educational Department on the ground that he was granted a gratuity which was not subsequently refunded. This latter objection is however overruled, for it is clear that the 2 months' gratuity was specially granted in lieu of notice to quit and was fixed without any reference to the applicant's previous service and the Pension Rules, as the following extract from the letter of the Commissioner of Police dated 21st Nov 1859 No 153. shows:—

"2. I propose to strike these men off on the last day of this month and recommend that a gratuity equal to the amount of two months' pay be sanctioned for each individual.

"3— According to the provisions of the Police Act, no member of the Police Force can resign without giving 2 months' notice, and it is this fact which has guided me in making the recommendation as above."

Mr. Cox is therefore entitled to retain that gratuity without its retention vitiating any of his service either in the Ordnance Dept. or, the Police. Of his earlier service in the Ordnance Office, however, a period of 1 year 2 months and 21 days must be excluded as service rendered before the age of 22; and his total pensionable service will therefore stand at 16 years 2 m & 18 days.

3. In consideration of the the fact that Mr & Mrs Cox were thrown out of employment by the late abolition of the Pensioners' School, and of the declaration of the Director of Public Instruction that there is no probability whatever of their services being required in the Educational Department. The Govt. of India will be requested as a special case to grant them the retiring allowances that would be due to them had a real saving to Govt been effected by their reduction: viz a commutation pension of Rs 5-4 to Mr Cox and a gratuity of Rs 28 to Mrs Cox.

4. No recovery is necessary of the pay said to have been overdrawn by Mr Cox for the period from 17th to 31st December 1857 when he did double duty as a clerk in the Ordnance office by day and as a trooper in the Mounted Police by night.
