He He He

Sir,

It is with regret that I had not as yet the honor to receive your reply to my address solely deserving you to let me know the welfare of your family, which I value as my own, and the object I have in view in presuming at present to address this to you, is also to know the same, concerning which a few lines from you will release me from the uneasiness which I am hourly feeling ever since you left this for Madras. I am happy to inform you that I am doing well with my family.

I am drawing my monthly allowance through my agent Mullarsamy.

As for the funds accumulated from the Interest money due to me on the Govt. Promissory notes & the Revenues of the Suramannim lands, I have not as yet received a single penny out of it. Nor my agent has ~~not~~ been allowed to interfere with the affairs of the property according to the instructions of the Govt, notwithstanding my frequent application for it. It is apprehended that my remonstrances to the Govt. agent on the matter will not meet with his just & impartial adjustment and I am utterly at a loss how to act at such a critical time. In the

Unconcerned
or unperturbed.

There is a very injustice

meanwhile I am expecting your reply and beg to remain Sir,

Yours sincerely
21st February 1861.

My dear Pyndyl

The enclosure reached me some 5 or 6 days
ago. Before learning it up without notice in any way, as it is now no business of mine, it has occurred to me that it may be as well for I should know that Carter is discharging the order for me about it.

of what has always been being much without arrange.
It stands to reason that an official in C^o position can always be passively obedient in a matter of this kind where the decision is opposed to his own views and where that decision has to be carried out by the subordinate himself.

He positively does nothing.
In April last just before the 5 1/2 per cent loan closed
I visited Mr Laccarum & the Prince, not then his wife, some 28 thousand

6/7
reduced in coin with an equal amount in 5 per cent paper Laccarum has been at me to know where it is!!! I know not. It must be the fellow in L. & either he or Harrison has
it. On this matter however I mean written personally to Cassell. But, in respect of this poor woman, Lad hoo Whai, I don't like to remind him that he is failing in his duty by withholding from her what God has decreed she is to have. That old fellow Vincent Rome's influence is reviving and I fancy his claws are again in growth.

beoned it not be fair to ask justice what he has done to carry out the orders of Govt in respect of her? He never would have paid these debts if you had not called for the monthly return

Pray don't trouble yourself to answer this whatever you think & please bear up the woman's letter.
