Letter no 354 dated 7th August 1897
from the Civil Surgeon atacamund to the Collector of Nijeris

Sir

I have the honour to enclose my bill for professional attendance
on Chitrali Chiefs

2. On receipt of your letter of July 21st asking me to visit the Chiefs I proceeded to Brockampton, where they are at present located and found two of them seriously ill -

Khokkand Beg suffering from acute dysentery supervening on chronic diabetes mellitus from which disease he has been apparently suffering for some time and Delawasha suffering from retention of urine the result of stricture of urethra.

3. I visited at Brockampton on the dates given in the margin and have charged at the rate of Rs 20 per visit, which is the charge I would make to any private individual residing at a similar distance from Atacamund.

4. Khokhand Beg is now better but as he is suffering from an incurable disease - diabetes mellitus his improvement will not be of a permanent nature; Delawanda has had the stricture of urethra dilated and all symptoms of bladder irritation have now disappeared.

5. I request that the bill may be passed for payment at your convenience

I have to

Letter from the Civil Surgeon Atacamund
No. 358 of 10th August 1897. to the Collector of Nilgiris
Sir.

In reply to your letter No 1230 of 7th Instant, I have the honor to say that Khokhand Beg does not appear to me as old as he himself states. I would put his age at about 75. he says himself he is 90.

2. It would be very difficult for me to say how long he is likely to live. natives of this Country live for years with distinct evidence of diabetes Mellitus. his last attack of dysentery pulled him down a good deal, but he has picked up again and is now fairly well except that he passes considerable quantity of urine, which has a specific gravity of 1030 and contains sugar. He would not be likely to ~~survive~~ ^{survive} a very acute attack of intercurrent disease. When a person has suffered from chronic diabetes, for many years, acute symptoms

Come on very suddenly and rapidly prove fatal.

3. The mental condition of a patient has a marked effect on the course of such a disease, as Khokhand Beg is suffering from.
Mental unrest or anxiety of any kind is likely to act prejudicially and for this reason, I am of opinion that his further detention in Adammud is likely to have a prejudicial effect on the course of his malady.

I have &c.

CURRENT NO 1019

TO

The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras
Political Department

Sir,

I have the honour to bring to the notice of Government the impaired state of health of Chitrati Chief Khokhand Beg.

2. On the 26th July the Civil Surgeon reporting to me semi-officially that Khokhand Beg was suffering from diabetes and was not likely in the Civil Surgeon's opinion to live long, enquired whether it would be of any use to recommend his release on medical grounds. I requested him to report officially.

3. On the 7th August (copy enclosed) the Civil Surgeon reported that Khokhand Beg had been seriously ill from acute dysentery supervening on chronic diabetes.

Diabetes mellitus, and that though he was better, his improvement would not be of a permanent nature, his disease being incurable. That portion of the Civil Surgeon's letter which regards his fees, will be dealt with on my learning the decision of Government as to a monthly allowance to the Civil Surgeon, on which question I believe the Surgeon General has addressed Government.

4. On this I asked for the Civil Surgeon's opinion as to Khokkand Beg's age, how long he was likely to live, and whether his detention was likely to operate prejudicially on his malady.

5. In his reply of 10th August (copy enclosed) the Civil Surgeon put Khokkand Beg's age at 75. He reported that the Chief was fairly well again, but with certain unfavourable symptoms; that acute symptoms might come on very suddenly and rapidly prove fatal fatal; and that detention was likely to have a prejudicial effect on the malady.

I have the honour to be,
