Note The proposals are in order. The Paymaster does not propose commutation in the cases of the first two widows, with reference to para 4 of G.O. No 422 Pol. D 29 June 1895 (page 183 of the Book file). ~~It seems~~ But G.O. was not intended to be absolute but the widows will probably be better off on Rs 1, p.m. than if they were granted pensions. The deceased pensioner drew two annas appear to have been able to excel on Rs 4. per measure and the two widows will now get Rs 2 between them
