3. That while alive, the said Moulvi Nurazish Khan Bahadur had registered names of his wife and the petitioner his only dependents to whom stipend might be sanctioned by Government on or after his death, but his wife died long before him, and she survived, she should, under the existing rules, have been entitled to one half of the pension drawn by her husband.

4. That after the death of her father, the petitioner was granted by Government in 1895 a monthly stipend of Rs 15 only. The petitioner respectfully begs leave to state that it is not even one sixth of the high stipend drawn by her father.

5. That the stipend sanctioned being of low value, the petitioner was also helped by her mother who was likewise in receipt of a Carnatic Stipend of Rs 20 (vide Carnatic Stipendiary Stipendiary No 4654 A) but to the petitioner's misfortune she too died last year, and the whole of her stipend thus lapsed to the State.

6. That since the death of her mother, the petitioner is compelled under the laws of the Society to share her bread with her unmarried sister and an old servant of her mother.

7. That the petitioner most humbly begs leave to invite the kind attention of Government to the fact that it helps several individuals similarly circumstanced and that in 1878, it was pleased to sanction a stipend of Rs 25 to the male issue of Ammaund Dowla - the rate of pension in his case being comparatively higher than is sanctioned on behalf of the petitioner who is a female in gosha.

8. That in view of the loss of support sustained by the petitioner in consequence of the death of her mother who was an 31st class Carnatic Stipend as stated in J. O. No. 105 & Supra and that in consideration of the fact that she has been forced to maintain
