My dear Currie,

A salute was fired for ~~the~~ the Raja of Pudukottai on Monday last in connection with ~~the~~ the arrival ~~of the~~ from England on the previous day, and it has been ascertained that this was done at the request of Romilly who sent an urgent D.O. on Sunday to the Assistant Adjutant General. From G.O.s 811 and 812 Pol, dated 19th November 1896, copies of which are enclosed, you will see that the ceremonials in the cases of Native Chiefs are arranged ~~for~~ by orders of Government, these orders being communicated to the officers concerned. It has been customary for the Aide de Camp to H.E. the Governor on these orders issuing to arrange for salutes recorded by Govt. In the present case, however, no request for any official attentions was received by Govt from the Raja in connection with his return to Madras and consequently no orders were issued for salutes or other honours. The instructions from the Mily Secy to the Military authorities was as it seems to me therefore not in order. I bring the matter to your notice because it is necessary to very carefully observe the correct procedure in these cases.
