Port Saint George.
General Treasury.
6 February 1860.

From,

Hugh D. Sandeman Esq.
Acting Treasurer,

To,

J. Pycroft Esq.
Chief Secretary to Government.

Sir,

I do myself the honor of replying to the Queries contained in the Proceedings of Government of the 12th ultimo, No 45.

1. There are in the General Treasury a Head Room and 7 Rooms, the former on receipt of a salary of Rs 10.8- monthly, and the latter on Rs 7- each.

2. They are all fit for duty.

3. The bulk of the letters despatched from the Treasury are for the Accountant General, three addressed to Officers out of the Fort are not large in number but generally require immediate attention. If the letters are sent through the Post Office, and not delivered in time, serious consequences may result from the delay.

4. I am of opinion that the present number of Rooms could not be diminished without very considerable inconvenience.

Of the 7 Rooms, one is attached to the Record Room and Census

Department, he is especially required at the former place and chief in charge of the Establishment set apart for the records; one is for the Account Branch, and a third in the Cash Department, where he collects the Vouchers paid during the day, has them stamped "Discharged" and "Paid" and classifies them for examination at the close of the day. These three are in other Establishments would be designated Attendants.

The Head Room and remaining 4 Rooms are engaged generally between the Act Treasurers and the several Departments, and for conveying conveying letters. In addition to other work the whole of the Pons, [the Head Pion excepted] take their turn to watch the Office at night, each having his turn once a week.

I have the honor to be

Sir

Your most Obedt servant

Hyphandaman

and Treasurer
